

U. S. Rejects Carranza Demands As 100,000 Militiamen Mobilize

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN MOBILIZE IN ALL STATES

Immediate Response to President Wilson's Call—To Go to Border on Funston's Orders

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Responses from governors of the states to which President Wilson's call on the National Guard for service along the Mexican border reached the war department today in rapid succession. By the time Secretary Baker was at his desk 17 states had been heard from announcing that mobilization was in progress. The messages were substantially identical and followed this general form: "Telegram received and mobilization in progress as directed."

None contained any estimate of the time required to get the troops under arms.

Secretary Baker reiterated the statement that none of the guardsmen affected by the new order would be sent to the border until Gen. Funston decided where and when he wanted them. The men will be held at state mobilization points until mustered into the federal service.

If the entire force is not immediately desired for border service the units not sent south probably will be granted furlough until such time as they may be required to relieve the regiments sent immediately, or to reinforce the border line in the event of open hostilities with Carranza troops.

It is certain, however, that the entire force, the minimum strength of which will be upwards of 100,000 men, will be held under arms for two weeks or a month.

Maine and Vermont were among the first 17 states heard from today.

Chairmen Chamberlain and Hay of the senate and house military committees were summoned to the White House for a conference early today.

"I have felt all along that we would be forced to intervene," said Senator Chamberlain when the call came. "The Mexican people—so largely ignorant—have a notion that they can whip us and it will be necessary for us to go in and clean up the situation."

MILITIA CAN BE ORDERED TO THE BORDER ONLY

BOSTON, June 19.—The National Guard unit cannot as such be ordered across the border under any conditions. The only way in which the men could cross the border would be in units.

U. S. FORCE FIRED UPON--- WARSHIPS GO TO MEXICO

With Whole Country Astir Over the Mobilization of National Guard for Border Duty, Pres. Wilson Directs That Reply Refusing to Withdraw United States Troops Go Forward Immediately—General Cole of the Bay State Appeals for Volunteers—United States Force and Mexicans Clash at Mazatlan—Officials See Actual Hostilities

WASHINGTON, June 19.—While the whole country was astir today with the mobilization of the National Guard for border duty, President Wilson directed that his reply rejecting Gen. Carranza's demand for the recall of American troops from Mexico go forward immediately.

Refuses to Withdraw Troops

In refusing to withdraw the troops, the United States reaffirms the friendly intentions of the United States toward the de facto government in Mexico and sharply rebukes Carranza for unwarranted charges and insinuations of bad faith contained in his communication.

Wilson's Firm Stand

President Wilson's firm resolve to keep the armed forces of the United States in Mexico until such time as the Mexican government policies the border region so thoroughly that bandit raids into American territory are improbable is understood to be clearly stated in the note. Whether the suggestion of the democratic platform plank that intervention might be undertaken as a last resort also was communicated is not known.

Note Dispatched Today

Secretary Lansing announced that the note would be dispatched during the day but would not discuss its terms, or say how it could be transmitted. It had been planned to send it by special messenger to the Mexican capital following the precedent set by Carranza in transmitting his own demands.

Recent developments along the border and Gen. Trevino's warning to Gen. Pershing, however, caused the wisdom of the plan to be doubted, and there were indications today that the reply would go by telegraph to Special Agent Rodgers in Mexico City for delivery to Gen. Carranza.

100,000 Militiamen Mobilize

While these diplomatic steps were in process a force of National Guardsmen, which will not be less than 100,000 strong and may exceed that number by many thousands, was being mustered into the service of the United States. Governors of all states had replied before noon today to instructions sent last night that their allotment of troops be immediately called out.

Warships Ordered to Mexico

From both coasts, also, additional naval vessels were under orders to proceed to Mexican waters for the relief of Americans who may gather from the interior. Considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of American citizens, of whom there still are about 5000 in Mexico, including 1000 in the capital.

Clash at Mazatlan

During the day Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, transmitted to Secretary Lansing an official report from his government that a clash occurred yesterday at Mazatlan between a boatload of men from the American gunboat Annapolis in the harbor and Mexican soldiers who ordered the Americans not to land.

Later a formal request from Carranza was transmitted urging that no men from American warships be permitted to land, even unarmed, during the present disturbed state of public opinion.

Admiral Winslow is trying to reach the gunboat Annapolis by radio for a report on the incident.

Instructions to naval commanders in Mexican waters have been to allow no shore liberty to their men and to send only such men ashore as is necessary to obtain supplies and mail.

Diplomatic officials were much stirred today by the possibility of actual hostilities between United States and Mexico which they saw in the mobilization of the National Guard.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN MOBILIZING WITH ZEAL

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Not since the Spanish war has the nation seen such military activity as today.

More than 100,000 National Guardsmen are being mobilized.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS

German Attacks on French North of Verdun Resumed—Teutons and Russians in Fierce Battle

German attacks on French positions north of Verdun have been resumed, but the crown prince's forces have been prevented from making any further advance, the Paris war office announced today. The assault of last night was on Hill No. 321, to the west of the Thiaumont farm, almost directly north of the fortress.

A further attack in force in the Dead Man hill sector, west of the Meuse, apparently is in preparation, judging from the intensity of the German bombardment and its prolongation.

Correspondents on the eastern front point to the fighting along the Styr and Stokhod, near Kolik, as crucial in its nature. The Germans are assailing the Austrians here in an attempt to check the drive of the Russians for the railway junction of Kovel, a vital point in the Teutonic defence system in that region.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN GALICIA AND VOLHYNIA, SAYS AUSTRIAN REPORT

BERLIN, June 19. (By wireless to Sayville)—Heavy fighting in Galicia and Volhynia is reported in the official Austrian statement of June 17, which says:

"On the Pruth there were no events of special importance."

"A Russian attempt to cross the Danester north of Mezuriska failed. Russian attacks against our positions east of Visnovec were repeated with undiminished violence."

"In Volhynia fighting began again at Alpa and in the districts of the Wocery, Stokhod and Syr rivers."

Regarding the Italian front the statement says that Italian troops are on the offensive in many positions but are being held in check by the Austrians.

LOWELL BOYS AWAIT "ON-TO-MEXICO" CALL

Commander of Co. M. of the Ninth Awaiting Orders—Men of the Sixth Want to be Included

War with Mexico? The Bay State troops called out under 5121.

Lowell will send her quota and the local boys are anxious for the fray. It looks like great activity at the armory, fond farewells and off to Mexico, for the Mexican war tide is coming in and Uncle Sam is going to meet it before it reaches its full.

Adj. Gen. Cole said last night that the Massachusetts consignment of the National Guard called out for border duty can be mobilized within 24 hours.

The Sixth regiment, which includes three Lowell companies, is seeking to be included in the Massachusetts regiments to leave for the Mexican border, in spite of the fact that the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth have been announced as the possible choice from the Bay State.

LIEUT. DANIEL M. CHRISTIAN

Thursday came the news that the militia had been called out, and later came the announcement that the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth probably would be selected.

Then the men of the Sixth got busy. Basing their claim upon the fact that the Sixth was the first regiment to leave for the Civil war and upon its standing as the leading regiment of the state in shooting, inspection and attendance, wires were kept hot in an endeavor to land a place in the "On-to-Mexico" brigade.

The order for troops calls for one brigade and one regiment from this state. A brigade comprises three regiments. The Second brigade includes the three companies announced as a possible choice, and it is believed by officers of the Sixth regiment that this was instrumental in the selection.

However, it is possible that a new brigade may be formed, comprising the best companies of the state, in which event the Sixth regiment surely would be included. The officers of the Sixth feel they owe to the regiment's record to be among the first to respond.

The Bay State troops called out are as follows:

Infantry, 3600; field artillery, 800; cavalry, 300; signal corps, 150; ambulance corps, 67; field hospital, 34; sanitary division, 150. Twelve hundred troops will be left behind, consisting of the naval militia and one regiment of infantry.

Gen. Cole said the chief difficulty he could foresee in mobilizing was to get the 2000 horses which would be required.

Lieutenant Daniel M. Christian, commander of Company M, received orders by telephone from Colonel Logan today. "The orders are to the effect that the company shall remain at the armory until the full complement of 150 men have been enrolled, and this will mean, of course, some mustering in. The orders provide that the soldiers shall drill five hours a day while at the armory and Lieut. Christian expects to be there for four or five days."

State. The three Lowell companies included in the Sixth are C. G. and K. The commanders of these companies are as follows: C. Capt. Geo. W. Peterson; G. Capt. Walter R. Jones; K. Capt. James N. Greig. Company M is the only local company connected with the Sixth regiment and this company is commanded by First Lieut. Daniel M. Christian and Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge.

The race was rowed upstream in comparatively calm water, with what little wind and tide there was against the oarsmen. Cornell took the lead at the start and was never headed.

SCHOOL ITEMS

Superintendent's Examination for Admission to High School

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, stated this morning that those who wish to take the superintendent's examination for admission to the high school, because of the fact that they do not expect to receive certificates of admission from their grammar schools, will be given an examination at the Green school on Merrimack street on Thursday, June 22, and Monday, June 26, beginning at 8:30 a. m.

Another announcement by Mr. Molloy had to do with employment certificates. He said it can be stated positively that no employment certificates of any kind whatsoever can be given by the school department, even for the vacation period, to a child under 14 years of age, and that there will be a special certificate for minors between 14 and 16 years of age and who are not possessed of the requisite educational qualifications for obtaining a regular certificate, and such certificate will be valid only during the vacation period.

The boulder, with its tablet inscription, was erected by the Kappa Alpha society of Williams college.

Lewis Perry, Jr., a descendant of two blockhouse defenders, was chosen to unveil the tablet, and the commemorative address was by Rev. John H. Lockwood of Springfield. The Society of Colonial Wars was represented by Henry G. Sanford, president of the New York society.

E. STOWELL DEAD

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS IN HIS HOME—WAS FORMER ALDERMAN

Frank Everett Stowell, aged 57 years, a former alderman of this city and a prominent business man, was found dead at his home, 225 Foster street yesterday afternoon, death being due to asphyxiation, and according to Medical Examiner J. V. McElis, who viewed the body, Mr. Stowell had been dead several days when his body was found.

When found the body was in the den of the house and fully clothed. The door and windows were closed and there was a book turned down upon a table near where the body was, testifying to the fact that deceased went to sleep while reading. The family was at the beach when the accident occurred, and the discovery was made by neighbors, who had not seen Mr. Stowell since Thursday.

Mr. Stowell was the oldest son of the late Joseph Stowell of Lawrence and Miriam (Dickey) Stowell. Since a severe attack of pneumonia last winter he had never regained his usual health and buoyancy. For two years he served in the aldermanic chamber in Lowell, under the administration of the late George W. Field, and at the time of his death, he was the business manager of the Rex garage in Moody street. At one time he was connected with the undertaking establishment of C. F. Young & Co., and later had charge of the men extermination work in the city. He introduced the cab system in Lowell and was well known as a business man of ability.

Besides his wife, Minnie L., he is survived by one son, Joseph S., one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Williams of Lawrence, and a brother, Orville F. Stowell of this city.

PRIMARIES IN MAINE

Contests for Republican Nominations For Governor and United States Senator

PORTLAND, Me., June 19.—Candidates for the September election were selected at joint primaries in this state today. The principal contests were for the republican nominations for governor and United States senator, for which several candidates were in the field. The republican nominations for congress in two of the four districts also were closely contested.

There was no opposition to the re-nomination of Gov. Oakley C. Curtis and of the present democratic delegation to congress. Two democrats sought nomination to congress in the fourth district.

Some of the progressive candidates have withdrawn and members of the party were left free to cast their ballots for any other party by the action of the state member of the national committee on Saturday last in releasing them from obligation to vote the progressive ticket.

MARSHALL AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Vice President Marshall called at the White House today for the first time since the St. Louis convention. He left a message that he did not want to disturb the president because of the Mexican situation and would call again when there was more opportunity to discuss plans for the campaign.

SEVERE THUNDER STORM

CLOUDBURST BROKE OVER LOWELL YESTERDAY—MUCH DAMAGE DONE

One of the heaviest hail storms that has visited this city for years broke over Lowell yesterday afternoon, and for half an hour the thunder rolled, the lightning flashed, the rain descended in torrents and large hail stones fell. About five o'clock the sky cleared and few people would have realized that Lowell had been the centre of a veritable cloudburst but for the condition of the streets.

Much damage was done to many of the streets, especially in Centralville and Belvidere, where the water rushed down the hilly streets, past the catch basins and washing away the top dressing on the streets. At the residence of Frank O'Hara, corner of Pleasant and Rogers streets, a large limb of a tree was broken off whether by lightning or wind is not known, but it fell with great force.

In North Chelmsford a barn at the McGrath farm, known as the Gray homestead, on the boulevard, was struck and stripped to its framework by the lightning. A house occupied by the Davis family near Wood's corner, North Chelmsford, also was visited by a bolt, which set clothes in a closet on fire. In Graniteville the steeple of the Methodist Episcopal church was done. The storm, while it lasted, worked havoc with the Bay State trolley service.

Man Pulled From River a Quincey Revived But Lived Only Six Hours—Death Due to Heart Failure

BOSTON, June 19.—Though rescued from drowning and revived by first aid efforts 25 minutes after he had gone down with cramps, while swimming in Town River, Quincy, yesterday afternoon, Harry Aggar, of 46 East Howard street, lived but six hours.

Death was a surprise to the Quincy City hospital physicians, who found him in such a condition when he arrived that they predicted he would be entirely recovered in a few days.

He was rescued and revived by John Starr, keeper of the public bathhouse on the river. At the hospital last night it was announced that death was due to acute dilation of the heart.

Aggar was in bathing yesterday afternoon with a crowd of others, about 100 feet from shore, when he was stricken with cramps. He called for help, but those near him became frightened.

Starr was passing out suits and locker keys at the bathhouse when word reached him that a man had drowned. Diving himself of his clothing as he ran, he swam out to the place where the man had disappeared. A boy, on the raft nearby, indicated the spot where the man was last seen. He had been gone four minutes then.

After searching around under the water for a few seconds, Starr secured the body and hurried ashore with it. By means of a barrel, the water was emptied from the stomach and after working 25 minutes respiration was restored.

DELEGATES ARE HOME

BACK FROM ST. LOUIS CONFIDENT OF WILSON VICTORY—LOWELL MAN ELECTED

BOSTON, June 19.—Massachusetts' delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis returned home yesterday, fairly exuding confidence that the democratic ticket of Wilson and Marshall is destined to win in the coming national election.

The delegates declare that if the two big national parties were to go to the polls today the Hughes-Fairbanks ticket would be swamped. They do not look for any loss of political strength by the president between now and election day, but on the other hand believe that he will gain.

With the Massachusetts delegates on the New England delegates' special, which arrived at the North station at about 4:45 yesterday afternoon, were the delegates from New Hampshire. The latter immediately took a train for the Granite State and arrived home last night.

On the train yesterday, delegate P. J. Brady of Forest Hills started a gubernatorial boom for a certain Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Peters.

Mr. Brady said that the feeling for the former congressman among the delegates was exceedingly encouraging.

On the way home the delegates of both the Massachusetts and New Hampshire parties presented former Mayor Edward Barry of Cambridge a purse of money. Mr. Barry made all of the hotel arrangements for the Massachusetts party and the train arrangements for both the Bay State and New Hampshire delegations. From the moment the special train left the North station on Monday last until it arrived back in Boston, there was not the slightest hitch. Mr. Barry was highly complimented for his work.

The delegates were delighted with the accommodations provided by the Boston & Maine railroad for them, and they expressed great appreciation of the assistance rendered them by assistant General Passenger Agent F. McCormick of that road, who accompanied the delegations to and from St. Louis and was responsible for the de luxe special making fast trips.

The delegates were tired after their strenuous week and long train ride. They were glad to get back to the Bay State. All were enthusiastic over the hospitality of St. Louisans, and particularly the members of the New England society of that city.

A permanent organization will undoubtedly be the outcome of the conference held at St. Louis, which delegates from different sections of the state attended.

Maj. Robert J. Crowley of Lowell was picked as the chairman of the proposed organization to include the delegates and which will be known as the Massachusetts Wilson club. It is the purpose to work with the state committee in conducting the campaign.

CONGRESS DOWN TO WORK

WHILE MEMBERS WERE ATTENDING NATIONAL POLITICAL CONVENTIONS

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Congress got down to active work again today. For nearly two weeks there had been a lull in legislative activity in both senate and house while members were in attendance upon the national political conventions.

The most pressing measures before congress are the big supply bills, several of which remain to be acted upon before June 30.

Work on the busy civil bill carrying $12,500,000 was begun in the house today, while the postoffice appropriation bill was still before the senate as the unfinished business.

The army appropriation bill, carrying $157,000,000 is expected to be taken up in the house after the sundry civil bill is disposed of.

CENSURE FOR GOV. McCALL

Members of House and Senate Condemned—State and City Employees Will Work Against Re-election

BOSTON, June 19.—The executive council of the Federation of State, City, Town and County Employees at the quarterly meeting yesterday adopted a resolution censuring Gov. McCall for his alleged action in influencing members of the senate and house to support his bill relating to the civil service commission.

Committees were instructed to act on reports which allege violations of the eight-hour law in Somerville, Lynn, Fall River and Salem. A committee was appointed to confer with Mayor Curley and to protest against the hiring of contractors' employees to substitute for city employees who do not report for work.

A report will be made to the state board of labor and industries of alleged violations of the "Citizens' Employment Law" in Beverly, where it is alleged, 50 noncitizens are working on the streets and sewers, while citizens cannot get employment.

The council adopted a resolution condemning a number of members of the senate and house for their attitude on labor measures. Circulars will be sent to all members, containing the names of these legislators, with instructions to work against their re-election. The action on Gov. McCall will also come in for this circular campaign.

Representatives John W. Craig of ward 12, Boston, explained the bill which places all county employees under civil service classification. It was voted to hold the next convention at Worcester the Saturday before Labor day.

SIR JOHN BLUNT DEAD

VALETTA, Malta, June 19, via London.—Sir John, Elijah Blunt, British consul at Boston, from 1899 to 1902 died here today at the age of 84. Sir John, who was knighted in 1902, had been in the consular service since 1890, much of the time in Turkey.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The forty hours' devotion at St. John's church in North Chelmsford, came to a close at the high mass yesterday morning. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. O'Brien, who preached a sermon on "The Blessed Sacrament."

Turner's mass of St. Cecilia was sung by the choir, the solos being sung by Miss Clara McCoy, John Lynch, Henry Driscoll and John Mc-

Quade. At the offertory, "Ave Maria," was effectively contributed by Henry Driscoll. At the conclusion of the mass there was a procession of the Blessed Sacrament in which some of the Sunday school children took part.

The graduation exercises of the Sacred Heart school, held in the school hall in Moore street last evening, resembled a parish reunion in the large attendance and the cordial spirit that prevailed throughout. That the parents, relatives and friends of the graduates enjoyed the long and varied program goes without saying for the excellence of the school graduation exercises is a tradition in the parish. AMUSEMENT NOTES the first three days of the present week, it looked fairly easy for "Pete Prindle" to get his portrait displayed on the front pages of all the New York papers—yes, it looked almost too easy. Here's what the hero actually did before the put through the proposition: the wrecked an automobile and went to the hospital, was thrown off a train, put on a champion middleweight and fought a losing fight with a pair of policemen. At last he won by fighting off a band of yeggmen, and saving a train from being wrecked. In these days of strenuous advertising this comedy is interesting, as showing how a man eager to attain notoriety may fall down time after time, only to attain it when he is not looking for it. Fairbanks makes an attractive picture as a lively youth. Loretta Blake will also appear in the cast.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The fourth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," with Miss Billie Burke in it, will be shown this first half of the week, beginning today. It is called "The Social Vertex," and it is literally a picture of luxury. The background consists of some of the most beautiful mansions on Riverside drive, New York, and many of the finest public buildings in the city are made use of for interiors. The story gathers intensity in this chapter, and it shows "Gloria" fast slipping into the power of the adventurer, Frenau. Miss Burke will wear many beautiful gowns.

With Collier in "Better Never Late," a comedy in which he starred for two seasons, will be the added attraction. Collier has proven to be as highly interesting and funny on the film as he was on the stage, and that is saying very much. He is supported by an ideal cast. Three other and shorter pictures will also be shown the first half of the week. The headline feature for the final three days is "Between Men," with William S. Hart in the cast, and the comedy special will be "Dizzy Heights and Daring Hearts," with Chester Conklin.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
After a long absence, too long perhaps, in the estimation of the many who especially delight in watching their favorite little miss, Marguerite Clark, will appear today, tomorrow and Wednesday in the leading role in the five-act feature play "Sis and Satins." In this play which is a thrilling breath from another day Miss Clark is transported to the romantic days of the past through the medium of an old diary which she finds on the eve of her wedding to Felix Breton. Felicie does not care for young Breton—she is her father's choice, and the heart of the little maid is breaking for big Jack Desmond, whose engaging smile and carefree behavior have won her love, but incurred her father's wrath. The moving of the huge table in one of the rooms of the house reveals a secret drawer in which Felicie finds the diary of one of her femino forebears. In this dusty little volume there is inscribed the story of thrills, heartaches, love battles, deeds of valor which vouchsafe her the answer to her great problem. For Felicie even on the eve of her marriage, cannot forget

Jack and her young heart yearns for him. As she reads the diary she determines to follow the example of her great-great grandmother and wed the man she loves. It was the cowardly action of Felicie of old that determined her to follow the dictates of her heart. How the present day Felicie faced by following this course makes up the rest of this most interesting photoplay, the leading role of which will be interpreted by Miss Clark herself at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday at all the performances. From the brief synopsis just given one can easily see what splendid opportunity Miss Clark has in this play to display her many magnificent gifts as a motion picture star.

"The Great Smash," is the title of the funny multi-reel comedy which will also be presented at this theatre on the first three days of this week. Those who enjoy a good laugh—and who are not—will be pleasantly entertained with this amusing number. Also shown on this same program is another big feature, "Torrents of Vengeance," a play which holds your interest through every scene in a vise-like grip. Other pictures will also be shown on these days at this theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE
The Vitaphone Company of America, surely the largest producing company in the world, with unlimited capital and accessories, and the makers of a thousand and one wonder picture plays, offers at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow, their latest VLB Blue Ribbon feature, Cyrus Townsend Brady's "The Chalice of Courage," introducing an all-star Vitaphone cast of players. "The Chalice of Courage" is a radically different type of motion picture. It starts with a thrill and continues its dynamic way throughout the entire six reels, full of astounding big scenes, heart throbs and its deep human plot. It would take columns to describe the many wonderful scenes enacted before the camera in this superb dramatization of the famous novel, but lacking the space, we will be content to point out the author of the novel, Blackton, and Smith and the players, the Vitaphone actors, known the world over. And when you throw in for good measure, a few other good dramas and comedies, we have the performance ideal, which is offered at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow only. Coming: "The Reel-do-well," in ten parts.

OWL THEATRE
Lionel Barrymore and Grace Valentine, two of the greatest favorite co-stars in the motion picture world, will be seen at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow for the first time in many months. The many local admirers of these two stars will no doubt receive this news with pleasure especially since this new Metro wonderplay, "Dorian's Divorce," in which they are appearing, is considered their greatest success.

"Dorian's Divorce" tells the story of a wife, who dissatisfied with her life because her husband has lost most of his money in Wall street, wants a divorce. He agrees to allow her to have it. The wife's godfather, fearing exposure in a divorce trial, tells the husband that he has misappropriated funds belonging to the wife and asks his protection. Some time later the godfather is found dead. The circumstances point to the wife as the guilty person, but the husband, in his devotion to her, takes the blame for the crime and escapes from the city. How he wanders penniless to the water front of New York, how he ships aboard a yacht and the terrible experiences which he suffers; how finally after he has unearthed the real criminal, his wife sends for him and together they tear up the papers for the proposed divorce which she was led to believe was irrevocable. A story, the like of which has seldom, if ever, been seen on the screen. An excellent comedy and other high class attractions will be presented at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow in conjunction with the feature photoplay.

dividual enlistment in the United States volunteer force, into which a given regiment of guardsmen could be absorbed as a unit if the individuals members of it so wished.

On the other hand, the act of 1903, with its amendment, makes it compulsory for each member of the National Guard to go to any point within the borders as directed by the president, through the governor, or face court-martial made up of officers from the militia, not the regulars. The law is interpreted as meaning that the governor must obey the presidential order, his only method of avoiding it being to muster out the National Guard before the order actually reaches him, thus being in a position to answer that there are no National Guardsmen in his state.

MASS. MILITIA CAN BE

MOBILIZED IN 24 HOURS

BOSTON, June 19.—The Massachusetts consignment of the National Guard called out for border duty can be mobilized within 24 hours, Adj. Gen. Cole said last night. While the final decision as to the troops picked rests with Governor McCall, who was in Hartford, Conn., last night, Gen. Cole said the infantry brigade would probably consist of the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth regiments.

The choice of the separate regiment of infantry asked for by Washington lies between the Second and the Sixth. It was thought the Second regiment would be selected, as Col. W. C. Hayes, its commander, is the senior officer.

The 10th State troops called out number 5121, as follows:

RAY STATE MILITIA

ORDERED TO ARMORIES

BOSTON, June 19.—Governor McCall sent the following telegram from Hartford last night to Adj. Gen. Cole:

"Issue all orders necessary for immediate mobilization of all troops called for by the federal government according to the terms of the call."

Before midnight Adj. Gen. Cole was still awaiting the official order from the war department, but meanwhile had all preparations made for an immediate mobilization.

After a talk with Governor McCall over the telephone, Gen. Cole said the Second regiment, from the western part of the state, had been picked to go with the infantry brigade composed of three other regiments.

The mobilization orders show that the Coast Artillery Corps the Sixth infantry regiment, First Corps Cavalry and the Naval Brigade will not go to camp.

"Any officer or enlisted man not reporting as ordered will be subject to court-martial," the instructions say.

"This tour of duty is for an indefinite period, and officers and men are cautioned about making the necessary arrangements in accordance therewith."

Commanding officers are directed to recruit to the maximum strength.

SECRETARY BAKER'S

CALL FOR THE MILITIA

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Baker's telegram to the governors of the various states, which was identical in form except as to the units called out and the mobilization point, was as follows:

"Having in view the possibility of further aggression upon the territory of the United States and the necessity for the proper protection of that frontier, the president has thought it proper to exercise the authority vested in him by the constitution and the laws and call out the organized militia and the National Guard necessary for that purpose. I am in consequence instructed by the president to call into the service of the United States forthwith through you the following units of the organized militia and the National Guard of the state of — which the president directs shall be assembled at the state mobilization point — for muster into the service of the United States:

(Here follows the list of units called) "Organizations to be accepted into the federal service should have the minimum peace strength now prescribed for organized militia, the maximum strength at which organization will be accepted, and to which they should be raised as soon as possible is prescribed in section 2, tables of organization, United States Army."

In case any regiment, battalion or squadron now recognized as such contains an insufficient number of organizations to enable it to conform at muster to regular army organization tables, the organization necessary to complete such units may be moved to mobilization camp and there inspected under orders of the department commander to determine fitness for recognition as organized militia by the war department. Circular 19, division of militia affairs, 1914, prescribes the organizations desired from each state as part of the local tactical division and only those organizations will be accepted into the service.

"It is requested that all officers of the adjutant-general's office, quartermaster corps and medical corps, duly recognized as pertaining to state headquarters under tables of organization, organized militia and not elsewhere required for duty in state administration, be ordered to camp for duty in state administration, be ordered to camp for duty as camp staff officers. Such number of these staff officers as the department commander may designate may be mustered into the service of the United States for the purpose of proper camp administration and will be mustered out when their services are no longer required."

"When recognized brigades or divisions are called into service from a state, the staff officers pertaining to these units under tables of organization, United States Army, will be mustered into service and also the authorized inspectors of small arms practice pertaining thereto. Except for these two purposes of mobilization and service in this prescribed staff service with tactical units officers of state headquarters under table above mentioned will not be mustered into service at this time. If tactical divisions are later organized the requisite additional number of staff officers with rank as prescribed for division staff will be called into service from those states which have furnished troops to such division. Acknowledged."

(Signed) "Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War."

MAINE MILITIA MOBILIZED

READY TO GO TO BORDER

AUGUSTA, Me., June 19.—The 12 companies of the Second Regiment, National Guard, state militia, were mobilized at their armories early today in readiness to start for the state encampment grounds here when ordered to move.

The regiment is ready to proceed to the Mexican border at any time, but it is doubtful if it is mobilized here for a day or two. Meanwhile commanding officers are recruiting their companies to the maximum.

Word was received from Limerick Falls that Company C, the largest in the regiment, had recruited eight men before 7 a. m., making a total complement of 88. Company B at Rumford recruited 12 men before 8 o'clock. Both companies which were called out by a signal on the fire alarm at 3 o'clock, were under arms and ready to move four hours later.

The companies which now average 80 men each, will be recruited to full strength of 150. The idea of having the recruiting done at the home stations was thought by military authorities here to be the most feasible plan. This is expected to take three or four days. The organization is expected to assemble at the state camp grounds by the latter part of the week. All officers and men will be given a medical examination at the home stations. The officers' school of instruction, which was to have opened here today, was cancelled. Intensive training and instruction of all the units was begun at once.

Adjutant General Charles H. Cole, who was busy until long after midnight arranging details of the mobilization, was at his office again early today. He said that although it would be possible to move all the troops to the camp at Framingham today, it was planned to defer this action until tomorrow. Today, Gen. Cole said, would be devoted to gathering all the men at the armories, inspecting their equipment and examining them for the possible presence of any infectious or contagious diseases. He said that work also would be begun toward recruiting the companies to their full strength.

More than 90 per cent of the militia, under orders had assembled at their armories at their appointed hour. Adj. Gen. Cole received many telephone and personal calls today from men who wanted to enlist. Applicants were referred to the commands at the several armories many of which had already set about increasing their numbers.

Massachusetts troops, in their mobilization at South Framingham, will have the benefit of first hand information from the camps in Canada. Col. Frank A. Graves, commanding the Eighth regiment, having been in the Dominion on special detail as observer for several weeks. He was ordered to return today.

Cole Appeals for Volunteers

Adj. Gen. Cole later in the day issued an appeal for enlistments. He said:

If you will call at my office, I will be glad to go over the proposition with you and outline a trip that can be made in exactly the time that you have to devote to it and within the cost that you decide you can spend. If it will be more convenient for you to send in a postal with your address, I will mail you some good reading matter on the Park, and some pictures and maps. CLASH IN DUBLIN

Sinn Feiners Recapture Flag Police Took From Woman

DUBLIN, June 19.—The Sinn Feiners and police came into contact in Westmoreland street yesterday when a procession of 3000 members of the Sinn Fein, after a celebration of mass for the repose of the souls of the volunteer leaders shot in the recent rioting, marched through the city, with the colors known as the republican flag.

The flag was carried by a woman and a soldier who tried to seize it was roughly handled. Policemen captured the flag and a struggle ensued in which the Sinn Feiners wrested their standard from the police and marched back to Hibernian hall with it and dispersed.

CLUB FOR SALE

Lowell Owners Find the Going in the Eastern League Too Hard

No bids have yet been received on the Lowell baseball team of the Eastern league. Though Andrew Roach and John P. Connor, the present owners, announced Saturday night that the club was for sale, nobody had applied for the purchase price up till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The rainy season, unprecedented in this or any other league, is believed to have led to the proposed sale of the club. The losses have been terribly heavy on account of the rain. It is known, and the failure of the Eastern league magnates to take any action relative to making some changes to reduce the expenses crashed all hopes.

Saturday night Mr. Connor, the new owner, announced that he would sell out his interest in the club. Mr. Connor, who retired from business to improve his health, found the baseball game more tiring than his previous business and decided to quit. Then Mr. Roach announced that he, too, would sell out if his partner did. As is well known, Mr. Roach would not have known the season but for Mr. Connor's entrance as half owner.

All bills contracted by the club will have been paid when the sale is made and the new owners will start out on a clean slate. That an even break at least could be made during the remainder of the season with the expenses cut down a little is almost assured.

U. S. REJECTS DEMANDS

men in 45 states were under orders to mobilize for Mexican service. They constitute virtually the entire militia strength of the United States. President Wilson through Secretary Baker issued the orders yesterday when it became apparent that the threatening conditions in northern Mexico were not improving.

To Go to Border

Only drilling and recruiting will be in order among militia organizations for the present. All must be mustered into federal service. Later they will be sent to the border for patrol duty, releasing about 30,000 regulars for service in Mexico if war actually develops.

Warships Head to Mexico

Additional warships also were getting ready today to hurry south and stand by Mexican ports to protect Americans. Secretary Daniels, after the militia order was issued last night ordered seven destroyers and nine other vessels to join the American warships already in Mexican waters.

No Offensive Attack

No offensive attack on Mexico is contemplated. President Wilson only wants stronger forces to defend the border against bandit raids and to be prepared should Carranza troops carry out their threats to strike at American forces engaged in chasing bandits south of the border.

Reply to Carranza

With about 100,000 militiamen under mobilization and about 50,000 troops already at the border, the United States' reply to Carranza's last note demanding withdrawal of American troops is ready to go forward. It announces a refusal to withdraw until Mexico curbs its own bandits, and it is emphatic.

Mobilizing With Zest

Unofficial reports received here today indicated that National Guardsmen are mobilizing with a zest. In each state and the District of Columbia they are preparing to meet in a single concentration camp, where they will drill pending further orders from the war department. Most units will have to recruit up to the minimum standards required by the government.

Gen. Funston in Charge

Infantry, cavalry, artillery, signal and sanitary troops are included in the call. Only coast guard militia is not being mobilized. Texas, New Mexico and Arizona guardsmen are already at the border under call issued several weeks ago. Gen. Funston, commanding the border forces will determine when the militia organizations shall be dispatched from their home states and to what points along the border.

Awant News of Attack

While these troops were getting ready today, war department officials were waiting anxiously for news of whether Maj. Anderson's squadron of cavalry was attacked by Carranza soldiers during a successful bandit chase south of the Rio Grande Saturday.

WASHINGTON NOTIFIED

OF CLASH AT MAZATLAN

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Communications from the Mexican embassy announcing that there had been a clash between a boat crew from the gunboat Annapolis and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday and asking that in the present tense situation no men be landed in Mexico from American warships under any circumstances, were delivered to the state department today by an embassy secretary.

The secretary sought an engagement with Secretary Lansing for the ambassador designate, Eliseo Arredondo, but was informed that Mr. Lansing was very busy making no appointments for the day.

Soon afterwards it became known that the reply to Carranza's last note demanding the recall of Gen. Pershing's forces would go forward today. The reply is understood to inform Carranza that the American troops will not be recalled until the de facto government has demonstrated its ability to guard the border from bandits, and to reiterate the position of the United States government towards Mexico.

The embassy communication brought the Washington government its first news of trouble at Mazatlan, latest radio advices from Admiral Winslow of the Pacific coast making no mention of it.

According to the Mexican version, confusion followed an attempt to land marines from a warship, there was an exchange of shots and two American officers were arrested and held until explanations had been made. The embassy presented a report from the military command at Mazatlan, General Mexico telling of the incident, accompanied by instructions from the Mexican foreign office, urging that the Americans be kept aboard their ships.

Gen. Moxto's report said the men landed at Mazatlan were marines, but as the gunboat Annapolis, the only ship known to be there, has no marines aboard, it is presumed that bluejackets were involved.

The Mexico report told this story: "A boat from the warship approached a Mazatlan wharf and was warned to keep off until permission to land could be obtained from the military authorities."

"It went back to the ship and several hours later returned with its crew armed. The officer in command was told permission for landing had not been given and an argument ensued. A crowd of soldiers and civilians had gathered on the wharf, and in the midst of the discussion, a drunken Japanese fired a shot at the Americans who promptly replied with a volley into the crowd."

"Carranza soldiers returned the fire and the boat withdrew, leaving behind two officers who were arrested. "Explanations were exchanged by the commander of the warship and the Carranza general and the American officers were released."

The report makes no mention of American casualties, but says two Mexican soldiers and one civilian were wounded.

PERSHING PLANS QUICK

DASH AT SIGN OF HOSTILITY

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 18.—Notwithstanding the threat of Gen. Trevino, the Mexican commander, to attack him if he moves in any direction except toward the border, Gen. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary force in Mexico, is said to be laying plans for a quick dash north and south at the first sign of hostility. His plans, it is believed by observers, are to gain possession of the Mexican Northwestern railroad which virtually commands the territory adjacent to his line of communication. Gen. Pershing's men slept on their arms last night.

The American commander is in receipt daily of information regarding the de facto Mexican government troop movements. Natives, treated kindly by the Americans, have voluntarily supplied valuable information.

CARRANZA AGAINST ANTI-AMERICAN DEMONSTRATIONS

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—General Carranza, addressing a mass meeting in front of his residence last night urged the citizens to refrain from hostile acts against Americans and declared that every difficulty between Mexico and the United States.

The first chief said in part: "This is not the time for hasty action. I am trying to arrange our difficulties with the United States peacefully and have hopes of succeeding. I want you to aid me."

"The encounter between American soldiers and Mexicans near Matamoros has been temporarily solved with the withdrawal of American troops from that region. The matter is now being taken up diplomatically. There was some trouble in Mazatlan caused by the intrusion of an American sailor and that has also been adjusted for the time being."

"Go to your homes and be good Mexicans, remembering also that I will do my utmost to preserve the dignity of the Mexican nation. If we are forced to resort to arms I will lead you in person."

A crowd composed of several thousand people cheered the remarks of the first chief. Early in the evening a big demonstration had been made in front of the National palace and afterwards the demonstrations had taken through the principal streets of the city. The metropolis was perfectly calm at a late hour and Carranza's words were expected to have a good effect in maintaining this condition.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IN

SONORA IS SEIZED

TUCSON, Ari., June 18.—Sonora military authorities have seized the Southern Pacific of Mexico system and cut all telegraph wires at the border, according to private advices here late today.

The Mexican custom house records have been transferred from Nogales, Mex., to some point south of the international line.

A demonstration of armed civilians in Nogales, Mexico, ended early this morning.

Fifty-two years old there have been armed by the military authorities.

Eighteen carloads of Mexican families have been sent south.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

The full text of the democratic platform as adopted at the party convention deserves the serious consideration of all thinking Americans who are not opposed to President Wilson with a partisan stubbornness that neither truth nor logic can shake. It is a definite document of fidelity to principle, a test of past performance and an announcement of future promise. Neither vague, evasive nor abstruse it contrasts favorably with the wobbly republican platform and while holding true to the announced issues of peace, prosperity and preparedness, it avoids the slightest suspicion of being radical or reactionary. It is as democratic as the democratic party and as sincere as its leader, President Wilson, whose reputation for courage, truth and sincerity is as secure as Plymouth Rock.

The first declaration of the platform is a summary of the keynote speech of Mr. Glyn, and a direct challenge to the opposition. "We endorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson," it says. Then follow the reasons why the party stands by its chief who has honored it and kept its most sacred pledges through years of trial and tremendous difficulties. The tariff policy of the party is defended and a non-partisan tariff commission is urged in preparation for the great business problems that will follow the close of the war. There is also a vindication of the administration's financial activities, and a declaration that the party wishes to see the country advance in business prosperity.

The most discussed plank of the platform—and in a sense the most sensational—is that which makes an issue of patriotism. The democratic party—unlike some others—does not presume to annex all the patriotism of the nation but it stands uncompromisingly against those who would levy "political blackmail" on presidential candidates in favor of a foreign government. This positive stand for "Americanism" must in time win the admiration and support of those who condemn some hyphenated activities, and it will force the republican party to take a more positive stand than heretofore. Pointedly and particularly are those condemned who conspire to gather in this country for the injection of foreign prejudices into American politics.

The platform declares strongly for preparedness—not the preparedness which would lead us to conquest but the preparedness which would strengthen us for defense. In connection with this plank is a declaration for the preservation of every American right and the protection of every American interest from whatever source menaced. The party of President Wilson may consistently take this stand since he by a courage that has not yet been realized and with a prudence for which he is not given full credit has won complete diplomatic victories over the most arrogant military government in the world and has held true to the principles of honest neutrality in the teeth of insidious and violent opposition.

Mexico is touched on in a section which stands for the Monroe Doctrine and a declaration that the United States will adhere to its recognized policy of non-interference in the affairs of other countries. The extension of the government machinery of co-operation with the farmer is advocated and also the adoption of the administration shipping bill which will place at the disposal of American business a fleet of American merchant ships under government control—until such time as private enterprise will make government action unnecessary.

There are many other matters in all of which the platform holds to tried and true American doctrine, but they are of comparative unimportance. Finally the people of the United States are reminded that it is a critical and ominous period in our history when all Americans should think of the part their country is called upon to play in the world of the future. The platform closes with a confident expression of belief that the country will support a president who, while standing for America in everything, has still kept us at peace and has retained the friendship of all nations.

RAILROAD SAFETY

After long and intimate inquiry into recent railroad wrecks the Interstate Commerce commission has published its report at Washington. Referring to the mooted question of the "human element" the report has the following:

"The recurrence of such distressing accidents directs attention forcibly to the fact that competent and experienced employees are not infallible, as it is to be noted in each instance that there are accidents due to the same fundamental cause—namely, fallibility of the human element responsible for the safe operation of trains.

"Wreck prevention is the highest duty of railroads.

"This obligation is not satisfied by merely making rules which prove insufficient in operation.

"If the human element repeatedly fails, then safety requires that the highest degree of mechanical skill be applied properly to supplement the human element at the particular point of danger."

is very general. Many papers, some of them devoted to technical subjects and mechanical inventions have proposed that the railroads substitute for the signals which have failed to protect life mechanical devices that would operate automatically to stop a train when the signal says "danger ahead." Strange as it may seem, experience proves that the most comprehensive code of rules will not protect the public so long as the personality of the brakeman, engineer or towman stands between the public and the application of the rule. There is also a growing conviction that many causes have arisen to lower the standard of railroad labor so that there will have to be an extension of mechanical efficiency to further the movement for "wreck prevention" which the report specifically says is "the highest duty of railroads."

HEALTH AND ORDER

Mayor O'Donnell's letter to the superintendent of police calling for the enforcement of city ordinances relative to the misuse of streets and sidewalks, etc., is as timely as it is terse, and it should be read carefully not only by the superintendent but by the citizens generally. Disregard of regulations governing public health and civic order is general everywhere and is a constant source of complaint. As a rule the people are just as careless as the authorities permit them to be, and though the offenders may be comparatively few they make things unpleasant for the many. The only cure is the application of the laws, not during a campaign or in a desultory fashion but all of the time. Some of the streets and sidewalks in Lowell are a disgrace, and if the copious rains had not come opportunistically to flush the worst districts, we would be worse off than we have been for some time past. If a sense of what is right and proper will not suffice to keep citizens particular about public health and appearances, let us see what the law can do about it.

THE RUSSIAN ADVANCE

While one has to be careful about accepting one-sided statements relative to the war, it does look as though the Bear is chasing Austria at an alarming clip. Even discounting the claims liberally, half of those whom the Russians claim to have captured would make a big bag for the czar and a costly loss for his foes. Even the presence of German troops and officers in the first line does not count for much and the Austrians may soon be forced to give up all their gains of last year. Russia talks of regaining all Russian territory which should it come to pass, will be a crushing blow to the central powers—and when they are in no position to come back in like measure. Russia's greatest service to the allies to date has been her lack of keeping a large Teutonic knock busy at just the right time and the especial struggle in the west may prove that the drive on the east was more strategic than we now suppose.

SEEN AND HEARD

John Cotter says nobody loves a plumber.

The Rev. Mr. Huesey is not the only man in Lowell qualified to speak on "The Personal Touch."

We might have done without the street car sprinklers if we knew it was going to rain every day.

The hay is making great progress, but the potatoes are having a hard time of it.

The Seagulls

There are two viewpoints from which the sea may be contemplated. "Ah!" cried the seagull's daughter, as she caught the flying saucer in her radiant face, "a life on the ocean wave for me! Isn't it perfectly gorgeous, Algie?"

"Oh—h—h—yes," gurgled Algie, making a break for the rail. "Oh, yes—ah—ah—disgorgous!"—Lippincott's.

Hopper Turned

At a dinner party DeWolf Hopper had finished his speech, and as he sat down a lawyer arose, showed his hands deep into his trousers pockets and as he came back he was asked, "What is the matter?"

"Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a lawyer should have his hands in his own pocket?"—Exchange.

Learn to Speak Italian

Sir Frederick Bridge, the popular organist of Westminster Abbey, is well known for his jovial good humor. At times, however, and under provocation, he can mingle a trace of acid quality with his wit.

An instance of this occurred during a rehearsal of one of Dvorak's operas, containing "The Cossacks in Hell." This particular number was not referred to Sir Frederick's satisfaction, and his repeated admonitions to the male voices.

Finally, throwing down his baton, in despair, the little conductor exclaimed: "Really, gentlemen, you ought to make it sound more like the real thing. Just think how foolish you'll feel when you get to the place if you cannot speak the language!"—T. F. S. Weekly.

Crossing the Bar

Tennyson's famous poem "Crossing the Bar" was written, said his son, in the poet's last year, "on a day in the year when we came from Alworth to Farringford. Before reaching Farringford he had had the 'moaning of the sea' in his mind, and after dinner he showed me the poem written out. 'That is the crown of your life's work,' said his son, who was the first man after the poet to read 'Crossing the Bar' and who passed the first criticism upon it in such fitting and generous language. 'It came in a moment,' said the poet, and he explained the poem as the Divine and Unseen, who is always guiding us. A day or two before he died the poet, calling his son to him, said, 'Mind you put 'Crossing the Bar' at the end of all editions of my poems.'"

Spotted His System

I know a man who wears his shirt in chronological order—that is, if he buys a new shirt he tags it with his initials, numbers it and places it at the bottom of the pile. And, no matter how much he likes it, he does not wear it until it comes out at the top of the pile. He went into wordy detail about the economy of his system, and he added that he arranged his socks and underwear in the same manner. Then he told him that he would meet the woman of his dreams some fine day and that she would knock the spots out of his system. I told him that she would admire a particular shirt, and he said he would send it to the laundry as soon as it was soiled and wear it as soon as it got back, and he would buy other shirts like it, and he would forget the system.

"Don't you believe it!" he said. "The person doesn't live who could upset my system!"

But I met him a few days ago—for the first time in a year. He was hurrying to catch a car, so I had only time to ask him how he was and how things were going, and he didn't have time to explain. He only shouted over his shoulder jubilantly, "I'm wearing 'em every which way!"

And I hadn't even heard he was married.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SEEN AND HEARD

John Cotter says nobody loves a plumber.

The Rev. Mr. Huesey is not the only man in Lowell qualified to speak on "The Personal Touch."

We might have done without the street car sprinklers if we knew it was going to rain every day.

The hay is making great progress, but the potatoes are having a hard time of it.

The Seagulls

There are two viewpoints from which the sea may be contemplated. "Ah!" cried the seagull's daughter, as she caught the flying saucer in her radiant face, "a life on the ocean wave for me! Isn't it perfectly gorgeous, Algie?"

"Oh—h—h—yes," gurgled Algie, making a break for the rail. "Oh, yes—ah—ah—disgorgous!"—Lippincott's.

Hopper Turned

At a dinner party DeWolf Hopper had finished his speech, and as he sat down a lawyer arose, showed his hands deep into his trousers pockets and as he came back he was asked, "What is the matter?"

"Doesn't it strike this company as a little unusual that a lawyer should have his hands in his own pocket?"—Exchange.

Learn to Speak Italian

Sir Frederick Bridge, the popular organist of Westminster Abbey, is well known for his jovial good humor. At times, however, and under provocation, he can mingle a trace of acid quality with his wit.

An instance of this occurred during a rehearsal of one of Dvorak's operas, containing "The Cossacks in Hell." This particular number was not referred to Sir Frederick's satisfaction, and his repeated admonitions to the male voices.

Finally, throwing down his baton, in despair, the little conductor exclaimed: "Really, gentlemen, you ought to make it sound more like the real thing. Just think how foolish you'll feel when you get to the place if you cannot speak the language!"—T. F. S. Weekly.

Crossing the Bar

Tennyson's famous poem "Crossing the Bar" was written, said his son, in the poet's last year, "on a day in the year when we came from Alworth to Farringford. Before reaching Farringford he had had the 'moaning of the sea' in his mind, and after dinner he showed me the poem written out. "That is the crown of your life's work," said his son, who was the first man after the poet to read "Crossing the Bar" and who passed the first criticism upon it in such fitting and generous language. "It came in a moment," said the poet, and he explained the poem as the Divine and Unseen, who is always guiding us. A day or two before he died the poet, calling his son to him, said, "Mind you put 'Crossing the Bar' at the end of all editions of my poems.""

Spotted His System

I know a man who wears his shirt in chronological order—that is, if he buys a new shirt he tags it with his initials, numbers it and places it at the bottom of the pile. And, no matter how much he likes it, he does not wear it until it comes out at the top of the pile. He went into wordy detail about the economy of his system, and he added that he arranged his socks and underwear in the same manner. Then he told him that he would meet the woman of his dreams some fine day and that she would knock the spots out of his system. I told him that she would admire a particular shirt, and he said he would send it to the laundry as soon as it was soiled and wear it as soon as it got back, and he would buy other shirts like it, and he would forget the system.

"Don't you believe it!" he said. "The person doesn't live who could upset my system!"

But I met him a few days ago—for the first time in a year. He was hurrying to catch a car, so I had only time to ask him how he was and how things were going, and he didn't have time to explain. He only shouted over his shoulder jubilantly, "I'm wearing 'em every which way!"

And I hadn't even heard he was married.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Just a Few of Them

"Cause of Demise" as variously reported:

"Went to bed feeling well, but woke up dead."

"Died suddenly at the age of 103. To this time he had fair to reach a ripe old age."

"Do not know cause of death, but patient fully recovered from last illness."

"Deceased had never been fatally sick."

"A mother died in infancy."

"Died suddenly while making serious."

"Pulmonary hemorrhage—sudden death. (Duration four years.)"

"Kick by horse shod on left kidney."

"Don't know. Died without the aid of a physician."

"Deceased died from blood poison, caused by a broken axle which is remarkable as his automobile struck him between the lamp and the radiator."

The Weather Prophet's Son

The weather man stayed out one day. His wife got rather warm. His little boy said: "Well, I guess we're going to have a storm."

One day his father went and bought a handkerchief or so. The little son remarked: "Well, now, we're going to have a blow."

"Go black my Sunday boots, my son."

He heard his father say: "I guess And then he quickly said: "I guess The son will shine today."

An exceptionally large class of pupils graduated yesterday from St. Michael's school. Twenty-six pupils received the regular diploma of "Christian Education" was preached by Rev. Francis J. Mullin. An innovation already under way in Cambridge will be watched with interest by other cities which are supplying milk stations. As in Lowell, the office of these milk stations has been to provide modified milk for babies during the summer months. The city of Cambridge is to discontinue its milk stations, substituting in their place graduate nurses especially trained in infant welfare work, who shall visit the homes from which birth records are received. The health department of Cambridge figures that under the new plan, expert services, advice and assistance will be extended to ten times as many mothers as were reached under the old plan.

Circus Days

Truly these are halcyon days for the small boy. Two circuses in one week! The only fly in the ointment is school, but as the year's work is practically completed, the fly is not of the magnitude he would have been had the circuses come earlier in the year. There is something in the blood of the small boy which responds to the scream of the steam calliope, the deep roar of the elephants, the flap of the canvas, and the rumble of heavy wagon. Time was when the joy was wholly taken away from seeing the circuses by the noise of the small boy writing a composition about it when he returned to school. Happily, that time is past, never to return, and at the circus school boy and school-master now meet on terms of beautiful equality as they legs peanuts into the elephant's gaping red mouth.

LADY LOOKABOUT

From time immemorial the parade has been among the peoples of the world, the favorite outward expression of exaltation of purpose, be the cause what it may. This inward exaltation is highly infectious, and like love and political preference, is no respecter of station, age or sex, degree of hyphenation. It strikes in the dark, it flourishes in the daylight, and none would exchange places with that rare person, the man or woman immune from its attack—at least while hands play and flags flutter. There are those, however, in whom the parade spirit flourishes, but on whom the heavy hand of woman's place-in-the-home rests with all the concentrated blue-laviness of early Puritan days.

It was my fortune on Wednesday evening, the evening of a favorable breeze from which to view the parade, to find myself in the midst of a throng of this sort. I had wandered on and on until I came to a thin spot in the solid phalanx of spectators on lower Gosham street. As I looked about at my neighbors, I was struck by the fact that there was an atmosphere of hyphen and habits. For a long time I managed to keep my foot-hold on the curbing, despite opposing forces from various directions, when a lady, plainly hyphenated, approached by way of the gutter. In her hands she carried a small black-eyed baby, and she was keeping himself quiet by sucking a black rubber nipple. Clearly the mother was seeking orchestra row standing room. None was available. Coming to a point directly in front of where I stood, she gently and unobtrusively moved once or twice with her elbow, but my attention was centered far up Bent's court. She then turned her back to me, and bending her body at right angles, catapulted backwards, nimbly hopped to the curb, and simultaneously I found myself in the second row of the orchestra.

For some time I had been conscious of a pounding and hammering across the street. It became so insistent that at last I began to seek its source. On the opposite side of the street rose a three-story tenement block. A long veranda across the front of the second story was filled with people. Directly over them I discovered the source of the pounding. A woman leaned far out, and as the parade passed, she thrust her head and arms over the railing, and she was not ten feet from the persons below who sat unconscious of the twentieth century sword of Damocles suspended over their heads. The parade was half over before her head disappeared, and the next moment another woman kept up a sort of monotonous tom-tom on the sill with a dust-pan. At the close of the evening she was as fresh as at the start, and I can vouch that she not only had not missed a single beat during the entire evening, but that she could have continued the tom-tom till morning.

In a third window sat a modern Barbara Frietschle. The emblem she waved was white, a sheet, judging from its size. At first she waved it triumphantly, as though she were waving the flag of a nation, but as the parade passed, she thrust her head and arms over the railing, and she was not ten feet from the persons below who sat unconscious of the twentieth century sword of Damocles suspended over their heads. The parade was half over before her head disappeared, and the next moment another woman kept up a sort of monotonous tom-tom on the sill with a dust-pan. At the close of the evening she was as fresh as at the start, and I can vouch that she not only had not missed a single beat during the entire evening, but that she could have continued the tom-tom till morning.

BASE BALL NOT DEAD

Smaller New England Cities Will Support the Game—Six Team League Less Expensive

What little baseball we were permitted to play last week demonstrated the fact that the Lowell team has not gone had permanently but still possesses the goods though up to the past week the boys were somewhat backward about coming forward with said goods. The few exhibitions of last week were the hope of a place in the first division after the wet season is over.

Many fans who follow closely the fortunes of the magnates were of the opinion that Saturday night would see the finish of the league as at present the weather is so bad that the meeting held in Boston during the week it was voted to continue under the ten team arrangement. Whether the league will finish the season with ten teams, as it started, is problematical, and many would like to see it split into six club leagues, composed of Lowell, Lawrence, Lynn, Worcester, Portland, and either Haverhill, Pittsburg or Manchester, representing this end of New England, and Bridgeport, Hartford, New London, New Haven, Springfield and Waterbury or Newport, R. I., on the other end.

Baseball is by no means dead in the smaller cities of New England, and industrial conditions are such as to assure a liberal patronage. But the weather has been the great drawback.

LOSING ITS GRIP

New London Not Sole Contender for Flag—Lowell Improving

The New London Planters, pace setters in the Eastern league, held their ground with the Springfield "runners up" in the few games that were played in the rainy weather of the past week. After showing signs of faltering the week previous New London came back strong and won just enough games to keep the team the same distance from the Springfield Green Sox. Three full games separate the two teams now.

The Lowell outfit showed more life last week than has marked its form for some time and succeeded in landing three out of four games played. Tuesday, with Matty Zieser on the ground, Lowell won a victory over Lynn by the score of 3 to 2. Wednesday at Ocean park Lohman pitched the team to a win by a 4 to 1 score. Thursday and won a lucky game and Harry Lord's boys won their last game of the week Friday at Worcester.

The batting of the local team showed a welcome improvement in the games played. Fitzgerald, Lord, Barrows, Kithen and Torphy came to in a most approved manner and Stimpson also hit the ball accurately and hard. The work of Pitchers Lohman and Zieser was perfectly satisfactory. Paddy Green failed to show that he was in any better condition than earlier in the week in a fraction of a game against Lynn.

The releasing of Downey and King did not weaken the team to any noticeable extent. A good second baseman who can hit the ball would fill in very nicely. Greenhale plays the position O. K. better than the average second baseman but "Snubner" is a catcher. It remains to be seen whether or not the new college twirler will make good.

The New London team does not look so far ahead of other first division aggregations at the opening of this week. Two weeks ago New London's average was .774 and Portland trailed with a standing of .630. Today, however, the Planters have dropped to .714 and Springfield, the second team, has a standing of .687. Several of New London's last victories have been made by a single run and with the other first division teams improving the race promises to be closer and worth watching from now on.

NEBES WINNER

Defeats Blackburn in Record Time—Challenges Champion

Albert Nebes is going to Philadelphia tomorrow to start training for a roller skating race with Clon of Chicago, holder of the world's championship title.

Nebes made this announcement following his defeat of Willie Blackburn of Chicago in a 10-mile race at the Bowldway last Saturday evening in which the Lowell boy finished a winner by six and a quarter laps, just one quarter of a mile. The time was 32 minutes, the best ever made at the Rollaway. Blackburn's time last Friday night, 35 minutes and two seconds, was the best for a 10 mile race previous to Saturday night.

Over 1200 fans cheered Nebes as he broke the tape, a winner of the $200 purse and the eastern championship. It was the biggest crowd to witness a race at the Rollaway this season.

As a result of the race Nebes tonight in which Blackburn was a winner, Nebes started the event handicapped three-quarters of a lap. For the first mile or so there was no change in the distance that separated the two men.

Then Nebes quickened his speed and in a short time passed Blackburn. For the third mile he lapped him for the first time. The rest of the race was all Nebes. The Lowell boy gained steadily. It was easily seen that the only thing that would beat him would be an accident and this did not happen. The first five miles of the race were covered in 15 minutes and 15 seconds.

Nebes admits that Blackburn is a remarkable skater. He credits his victory to the fact that he skates around the corners of the small rink while Blackburn has to coast. Blackburn has beaten Clon twice and has been beaten by the champion only once. The last two meetings between this pair were won by Clon, thereby giving him the claim to the championship.

Nebes is confident that if given a chance he will return to Lowell with the title and his many friends join in wishing him success.

HAS GIBBONS GONE BACK?

ST. PAUL PHANTOM HAS LOST HIS LAST THREE BOUTS IN NEW YORK

Mike Gibbons is just about as popular in New York now as he was in Lowell when he visited the city last week after his fight with Ted (Kid) Lewis in Gotham seems to nauseate the fight fans.

The last three times Mike has fought in New York he has been beaten. The first time it was by a dub scraper, the second time by McFarland turned the trick and next it was Ted (Kid) Lewis who triumphed over him. That Lewis beating has disgusted Gothamites for all time, as far as Mike is concerned.

Gibbons took on Soldier Bartfield last summer and even though it would be a cinch, it was for Bartfield. The dub beat the "peerless" Mike to almost all of his swings. He broke through Mike's guard at will. And he went further. He showed in what contempt he held Gibbons when he spent half of his time mimicking Gibbons's tricks, while the crowd howled with laughter.

And then came that Gibbons-McFarland fiasco. That night almost killed the game in New York. Neither man fully extended himself. Yet Packey was because of his great aggressiveness. From where we sat it looked as if Packey were landing three wallops to one by Gibbons, and Mike's the "sure-puncher" was missing frequently and acted like a novice.

Ever since Mike has been "panned" by the New York critics. They declared that either he didn't try to fight or that he is through. Mike resented those criticisms. He begged one more chance to display his wares in New York. And he got it against Lewis.

The man who stopped into the ring with Gibbons weighed 150 and Lewis 113. In other words, a second rate welter "spotted" the supposedly top-notch middleweight nane and a half pounds—a terrible handicap.

The ringside odds were about five to one that Gibbons would win. He had everything in his favor: height, weight, reach, experience, science—everything that goes to make up a fighter.

And Ted (Kid) Lewis beat Mike Gibbons in that fight. He took everything Mike had to offer in the early rounds. He let Mike try out his famous wallop on his pugilistic belt and got when they landed. He acted as Mike's punching bag for the first three or four rounds. And then he went after Mike. He broke through Mike's so-called "impenetrable defense" and landed at will. He forced the fighting—and he forced Mike to back up to the ropes and again he turned aside most of Mike's punches during the latter part of the battle—and he made Mike Gibbons look like a novice.

The non-partisan fans are of the opinion that Mike is through, that he has shot his pugilistic belt and no longer can he be classed as a headliner. They point to the Bartfield, McFarland and Lewis fights to support their claim that Mike has faded. The Gibbons enthusiasts, however, claim that Mike still ranks as the best middleweight in the land and that he didn't beat Lewis in a despicable way merely because he didn't extend himself.

If Mike didn't work to his absolute limit, why not? That's what he was paid for. Any fighter who accepts money for ten rounds of fighting and then really doesn't try to fight, gets roundly and justly punished. That goes for Mike Gibbons as well as any other fighter in the land.

POLICE SAVE ELEVEN

Two Women and Nine Boys Rescued—Four Yachts Taken Off Turned Cannon—Thousands on Charles

NEWTON, June 19.—As a result of the excellent weather, which brought a record crowd of canoeists on the Charles river yesterday, yesterday, 11 persons, nine males and two women, were pulled from the water as a result of overturned canoes.

Metropolitan park police officers figured in both the rescues which saved four from drowning during the afternoon. Two youths went over in from the Boston Athletic association boat-house. Neither could swim and they were in deep water, with the nearest source of help, Patrolman William E. Lyons, some distance away. When the officer heard their cries he started on his long paddle to the scene. He arrived there just in time to save one of the boys from sinking from exhaustion. The other was in bad shape. Both were taken to the station, where they were dried out.

The other rescue was made by Patrolman Sullivan at the Cuts, where two more youngsters who could not swim went over in the deep water and were rescued from the overturned canoe to which they were clinging for their lives.

Both very weak, were taken into the police boat and carried to the station. All told, 11 persons were dried out during the day.

Besides the thousands of canoeists, as many more walked up and down the banks of the river, while Norumbega park had its record crowd of the season. The automobiles were absent, however, because the Weston bridge is closed for the summer while a new structure is being built, causing a detour of all machines bound from Boston to the west.

CHANGE AT BRIDGEPORT

HARRY CORNEN NOW SOLE OWNER OF CLUB—BUYS OUT INTEREST OF GUS KNORR

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 19.—Harry Cornen, who since the start of the season has been associated with Gus Knorr in the operation of the Bridgeport franchise in the Eastern league, yesterday declared that he had secured his partner's interest in the club and hereafter would operate the club alone. "I am out of everything now except baseball," was Cornen's way of putting it. "Mr. Knorr and I are on friendly terms and will continue to maintain our pleasant relations." He wanted to get out of baseball and we arranged terms to our mutual satisfaction. I have purchased Mr. Knorr's interest in the club and at the same time have given up my holdings in the bowling alleys and theatre in South Norwalk, which we formerly conducted together as partners."

Practically Cornen's first move as sole owner of the club was to start negotiations for the strengthening of the Bridgeport team. He got in touch with Manager Leach of the Rochester club of the International league and signed an agreement. Leach said that the only reason he allowed the player to go was because of the necessity of cutting down the squad to keep within the league's player limit. Blake hit for .251 with the Jersey City league last year and when turned out to the Singhamton club of the New York league hit for .299. He is a youngster.

Another change was the release of Jack Dell, the former Pony. Cornen says he is satisfied that Dell will not fill the bill as first baseman and considers that the trial given the player was enough to give him every chance to make good.

Warships Rush to Mexican Waters As 100,000 Militiamen Mobilize

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN MOBILIZE IN ALL STATES

Immediate Response to President Wilson's Call—To Go to Border on Funston's Orders

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Responses from governors of the states to which President Wilson's call on the National Guard for service along the Mexican border reached the war department today in rapid succession. By the time Secretary Baker was at his desk, 17 states had been heard from announcing that mobilization was in progress. The messages were substantially identical and followed this general form: "Telegram received and mobilization in progress as directed."

None contained any estimate of the time required to get the troops under arms. Secretary Baker reiterated the statement that none of the guardsmen affected by the new order would be sent to the border until Gen. Funston decided where and when he wanted them. The men will be held at state mobilization points until mustered into the federal service.

If the entire force is not immediately desired for border service the units sent south probably will be granted furlough until such time as they may be required to relieve the regiments sent immediately, or to reinforce the border line in the event of open hostilities with Carranza troops. It is certain, however, that the entire force, the minimum strength of which will be upwards of 100,000 men, will be held under arms for two weeks or a month.

Maine and Vermont were among the first 17 states heard from today. Chairman Chamberlain and Hay of the senate and house military committee were summoned to the White House for a conference early today. "I have felt all along that we would be forced to intervene," said Senator Chamberlain when the call came. "The Mexican people—so largely ignorant—have a notion that they can whip us and it will be necessary for us to go in and clean up the situation."

PRES. WILSON REJECTS CARRANZA DEMANDS

With Whole Country Astir Over the Mobilization of National Guard for Border Duty, Pres. Wilson Directs That Reply Refusing to Withdraw United States Troops Go Forward Immediately—General Cole of the Bay State Appeals for Volunteers—United States Force and Mexicans Clash at Mazatlan—Officials See Actual Hostilities

WASHINGTON, June 19.—While the whole country was astir today with the mobilization of the National Guard for border duty, President Wilson directed that his reply rejecting Gen. Carranza's demand for the recall of American troops from Mexico go forward immediately.

Refuses to Withdraw Troops
In refusing to withdraw the troops, the United States reaffirms the friendly intentions of the United States toward the de facto government in Mexico and sharply rebukes Carranza for unwarranted charges and insinuations of bad faith contained in his communication.

Wilson's Firm Stand
President Wilson's firm resolve to keep the armed forces of the United States in Mexico until such time as the Mexican government policies the border region so thoroughly that bandit raids into American territory are impossible is understood to be clearly stated in the note. Whether the suggestion of the democratic platform plank that intervention might be undertaken as a last resort also was communicated is not known.

Note Dispatched Today

Secretary Lansing announced that the note would be dispatched during the day but would not discuss its terms, or say how it would be transmitted. It had been planned to send it by special messenger to the Mexican capital following the precedent set by Carranza in transmitting his own demands.

Recent developments along the border and Gen. Trevino's warning to Gen. Pershing, however, caused the wisdom of the plan to be doubted, and there were indications today that the reply would go by telegraph to Special Agent Rodgers in Mexico City for delivery to Gen. Carranza.

100,000 Militiamen Mobilize
While these diplomatic steps were in process a force of National Guardsmen, which will not be less than 100,000 strong and may exceed that number by many thousands, was being mustered into the service of the United States. Governors of all states had replied before noon today to instructions sent last night that their allotment of troops be immediately called out.

Warships Ordered to Mexico
From both coasts, also, additional naval vessels were under orders to proceed to Mexican waters for the relief of Americans who may gather from the interior. Considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of American citizens, of whom there still are about 5000 in Mexico, including 1000 in the capital.

Clash at Mazatlan
During the day Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, transmitted to Secretary Lansing an official report from his government that a clash occurred yesterday at Mazatlan between a boatload of men from the American gunboat Annapolis in the harbor and Mexican soldiers who ordered the Americans not to land.

Later a formal request from Carranza was transmitted urging that no men from American warships be permitted to land, even unarmed, during the present disturbed state of public opinion.

Admiral Winslow is trying to reach the gunboat Annapolis by radio for a report on the incident.

Instructions to naval commanders in Mexican waters have been to allow no shore liberty to their men and to send only such men ashore as is necessary to obtain supplies and mail.
Diplomatic officials were much stirred today by the possibility of actual hostilities between United States and Mexico which they saw in

LOWELL BOYS AWAIT "ON-TO-MEXICO" CALL

Commander of Co. M. of the Ninth Awaiting Orders—Men of the Sixth Want to be Included

War with Mexico!
The Bay State troops called out number 5121.
Lowell will send her quota and the local boys are anxious for the fray. It looks like great activity at the armory, fond farewells and off to Mexico, for the Mexican war tide is coming in and Uncle Sam is going to meet it before it reaches its full.

Adj. Gen. Cole said last night that the Massachusetts consignment of the National Guard called out for border duty can be mobilized within 24 hours. The Sixth regiment, which includes three Lowell companies, is seeking to be included in the Massachusetts regiments to leave for the Mexican border, in spite of the fact that the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth have been announced as the possible choice from the Bay.

PERSHING TAKES PRECAUTION

TO PREVENT CLASH

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 19.—Gen. J. J. Pershing, American expeditionary commander, is taking every precaution to prevent a clash with Carranza troops being precipitated by some trivial incident, according to reports from the field today. Detachments which for the past few weeks have been operating within a few miles of the camps of the troops of the de facto government have been withdrawn and scouting patrols have been given orders to ride their territories with extreme caution. All of the soldiers of the American command have been warned to break great care in distinguishing bandits from Mexican soldiers.

F. E. STOWELL DEAD

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS IN HIS HOME—WAS FORMER ALDERMAN

Frank Everett Stowell, aged 51 years, a former alderman of this city and a prominent business man, was found dead at his home, 225 Foster street yesterday afternoon; death being due to asphyxiation, and according to Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs, who viewed the body, Mr. Stowell had been dead several days when his body was found.

When found the body was in the den of the house and fully clothed. The door and windows were closed and there was a book turned down upon a table near where the body was, testifying to the fact that deceased went to sleep while reading. The family was at the beach when the accident occurred, and the discovery was made by neighbors, who had not seen Mr. Stowell since Thursday.

Mr. Stowell was the oldest son of the late Joseph Stowell of Lawrence and Miriam (Dickey) Stowell. Since a severe attack of pneumonia last winter he had never regained his usual health and buoyancy. For two years he served in the aldermanic chamber in Lowell, under the administration of the late George W. Field, and at the time of his death, he was the business manager of the Rex garage in Moody street. At one time he was connected with the undertaking establishment of C. P. Young & Co., and later had charge of the moth extermination work in the city. He introduced the cab system in Lowell and was well known as a business man of ability.

Besides his wife, Minnie L., he is survived by one son, Joseph S.; one sister, Mrs. Clarence Williams of Lawrence, and a brother, Orville F. Stowell of this city.

PRIMARIES IN MAINE

Contests for Republican Nominations For Governor and United States Senator

PORTLAND, Me., June 19.—Candidates for the September election were selected at joint primaries in this state today. The principal contests were for the republican nominations for governor and United States senator, for which several candidates were in the field. The republican nominations for congress in two of the four districts also were closely contested.

There was no opposition to the renomination of Gov. Oakley C. Curtis and of the present democratic delegation to congress. Two democrats sought nomination to congress in the fourth district.

Some of the progressive candidates have withdrawn and members of the party were left free to cast their ballots for any other party by the action of the state member of the national committee on Saturday last in releasing them from obligation to vote the progressive ticket.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Vice President Marshall called at the White House today for the first time since the St. Louis convention. SEVERE THUNDER STORM DELEGATES ARE HOME

CLOUDBURST BROKE OVER LOWELL YESTERDAY—MUCH DAMAGE DONE

One of the heaviest hail storms that has visited this city for years broke over Lowell yesterday afternoon, and for half an hour the thunder rolled, the lightning flashed, the rain descended in torrents and large hail stones fell. About five o'clock the sky cleared and a few people would have realized that Lowell had been the center of a veritable cloudburst but for the condition of the streets.

Much damage was done to many of the streets, especially in Centralville and Belvidere, where the water rushed down the hilly streets, past the catch basins and washing away the top dressing on the streets. At the residence of Frank O'Hare, corner of Pleasant and Rogers streets, a large limb of a tree was broken off whether by lightning or wind is not known, but it fell with great force.

In North Chelmsford a barn at the McGrath farm, known as the Gray homestead on the boulevard, was struck and stripped to its framework by the lightning. A house occupied by the Davis family near Wood's corner, North Chelmsford, also was visited by a bolt, which set clothes in a closet on fire. In Granville the steeple of the Methodist Episcopal church was struck, but little damage was done. The storm, while it lasted, worked havoc with the Bay State trolley service.

Man Pulled From River a Quincey Revived But Lived Only Six Hours—Death Due to Heart Failure

BOSTON, June 19.—Though rescued from drowning and revived by first aid efforts 25 minutes after he had gone down with cramps, while swimming in Town River, Quincy, yesterday afternoon, Harry Appar, of 46 East Howard street, lived but six hours.

Death was a surprise to the Quincy City hospital physician, who found him in such a condition when he arrived that they predicted he would be entirely recovered in a few days.

He was rescued and revived by John Starr, keeper of the public bathhouse on the river. At the hospital last night it was announced that death was due to acute dilation of the heart.

Appar was in bathing yesterday afternoon with a crowd of others, about 100 feet from shore, when he was stricken with cramps. He called for help, but those near him became frightened.

Starr was passing out suits and lockers keys at the bathhouse when word reached him that a man had drowned. Diving through a crowd of onlookers as he ran, he swam out to the place where the man had disappeared. A boy, on the raft nearby, indicated the spot where the man was last seen. He had been gone four minutes then.

After searching around under the water for a few seconds, Starr secured the body and hurried ashore with it. By way of the water, the water was emptied from the stomach and after working 15 minutes respiration was restored.

BACK FROM ST. LOUIS CONFIDENT OF WILSON VICTORY—LOWELL MAN ELECTED

BOSTON, June 19.—Massachusetts delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis returned home yesterday, fairly exuding confidence that the democratic ticket of Wilson and Marshall is destined to win in the coming national election.

The delegates declare that if the two big national parties were to go to the polls today the Hughes-Fairbanks ticket would be swamped. They do not look for any loss of political strength by the president between now and election day, but on the other hand believe that he will gain by it.

With the Massachusetts delegates on the New England delegates' special, which arrived at the North station at about 4:45 yesterday afternoon, were the delegates from New Hampshire. The latter immediately took a train for the Granite State and arrived home last night.

On the train yesterday, delegate E. J. Brady of Forest Hills started a gubernatorial boom for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Peters. Mr. Brady said that the feeling for the former congressman among the delegates was exceedingly encouraging.

On the way home the delegates of both the Massachusetts and New Hampshire parties presented former Mayor Edward Barry of Cambridge a purse of money. Mr. Barry made all of the hotel arrangements for the Massachusetts party and the train arrangements for both the Bay State and New Hampshire delegations. From the moment the special train left the North station on Monday last until it arrived back in Boston, there was not the slightest hitch. Mr. Barry was highly complimented for his work. The delegates were delighted with the accommodations provided by the Boston & Maine railroad for them, and they expressed great appreciation of the assistance rendered them by Assistant General Passenger Agent F. A. McCormick of that road, who accompanied the delegations to and from St. Louis and was responsible for the de luxe special making fast trips.

The delegates were tired after their strenuous week and long train ride. They were glad to get back to the Bay State. All were enthusiastic over the hospitality of St. Louis, and particularly the members of the New England society of that city.

A permanent organization will undoubtedly be the outcome of the conference held on the train which delegates from different sections of the state attended.

Mr. Robert J. Crowley of Lowell was picked as the chairman of the proposed organization to include the delegates and which will be known as the Massachusetts Wilson club. It is the purpose to work with the state committee in conducting the campaign.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The forty hours' devotion at St. John's church in North Chelmsford, came to a close at the high mass yesterday morning. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. O'Brien, who preached a sermon on "The Blessed Sacrament."

Turner's mass of St. Cecilia was sung by the choir, the solos being sustained by Miss Clara McCoy, John J. Lynch, Henry Driscoll and John McQuade. At the offertory, "Ave Maria," was effectively contributed by Henry Driscoll. At the conclusion of the mass there was a procession of the Blessed Sacrament in which some of the Sunday school children took part.

The graduation exercises of the Sacred Heart school, held in the school hall in Moore street last evening, resembled a parish reunion in the large attendance and the cordial spirit that prevailed throughout. In connection with the graduation exercises there was a splendid exhibition of art and fancy work by the pupils which aroused the admiration of those present. AMUSEMENT NOTES are the first three days of the present week, it looked fairly easy for "Felix" to get his portrait displayed on the front pages of all the New York papers—yes, it looked almost too easy. Here's what the hero actually did before he put through the proposition: He wrecked an automobile and went to the hospital, was thrown off a train, put out a champion middleweight and fought a losing fight with a pair of policemen. At last he won by knocking a hand of eggmen, and saving a train from being wrecked. In these days of strenuous advertising this comedy is interesting, as showing how man eager to attain notoriety may fall down time after time, only to attain it when he is not looking for it. Fairbanks makes an attractive picture as a lively youth. Loretta Blake will also appear in the cast.

The fourth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," with Miss Billie Burke in the title role, will be shown the first half of the week, beginning today. It is called "The Social Vortex," and it is literally a picture de luxe. The background consists of some of the most beautiful mansions on Riverside drive, New York, and many of the finest public buildings in the city are made use of for interiors. The story gathers intensity in this chapter, and it shows "Gloria" fast slipping into the power of the adventurer, Freneau. Miss Burke will wear many beautiful gowns.

Willie Collier in "Better Never Late," a comedy in which he starts by an accident, will be the added attraction. Collier has proven to be as highly interesting and funny on the film as he was on the stage, and that is saying very much. He is supported by an ideal cast. Three other and shorter pictures will also be shown the first half of the week. The headline feature for the final three days is "Between Men," with William S. Hart in the cast, and the comedy special will be "Bizzy Heights and Daring Hearts," with Chester Conklin.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

After a long absence, too long perhaps, in the estimation of the many who especially delight in watching their favorite little miss, Marguerite Clark, will appear today, tomorrow and Wednesday in the leading role in the five-act feature play "Silks and Satins." In this play which is a thrilling breath from another day Miss Clark is transported to the romantic days of the past through the medium of an old diary which she finds on the eve of her wedding to Felix Breton. Felicitie does not care for young Breton—he is her father's choice, and the heart of the little maid is breaking for big Jack Desmond, whose engaging smile and carefree behavior have won her love, but incurred her father's wrath. The moving of the huge table in one of the rooms of the house reveals a secret drawer in which Felicitie finds the diary of one of her former forebears. In this misty little volume there is inscribed the story of thrills, heartaches, love battles, needs of valor which vouchsafe her the answer to her greatest problem. For Felicitie even on the eve of her marriage, cannot forget

Jack and her young heart yearns for him. As she reads the diary she determines to follow the example of her great-great grandmother and wed the man she loves. It was the cowardly action of Felicitie of old that determined her to follow the dictates of her heart. How the present Felicitie is following this course makes up the rest of this most interesting photoplay, the leading role of which will be interpreted by Miss Clark herself at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday at all the performances. From the brief synopsis just given one can easily see what splendid opportunities Miss Clark has in this play to display her many magnificent gifts as a motion picture star.

"The Great Smash," is the title of the funny multi-reel comedy which will also be presented at this theatre on the first three days of this week. Those who enjoy a good laugh—and who don't—will be pleasantly entertained with this amusing number. Also shown on this same program is another big feature, "Torrents of Vengeance," a play which holds your interest through every scene in a vise-like grip. Other pictures will also be shown on these days at this theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE

The Vitagraph Company of America, surely the largest producing company in the world, with unlimited capital and accessories, and the makers of a thousand and one wonder picture plays, offers at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow, their latest VLSIB-Broadway feature, "Cross Towns and Brady's 'The Challenge of Courage'." Introducing an all-star Vitagraph cast of players, "The Challenge of Courage," is a radically different type of motion picture. It starts with a thrill and continues its dynamic way throughout the entire six reels, full of smashing big scenes, heart throbs and its deep human plot. It would take columns to describe the many wonderful scenes enacted before the camera in this superb dramatization of the famous novel, but lacking the space, we will be content to point out the author, the producers, Blackton and Smith and the players, the Vitagraph actors, known the world over. And when you throw in for good measure a few other good dramas and comedies, we have the performance ideal, which is offered at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow only. Coming, "The Ne'er-do-well," in ten parts.

OWL THEATRE

Lionel Barrymore and Grace Valentine, two of the greatest favorite stars in the motion picture world, will be seen at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow for the first time in many months. The many local admirers of these two stars will no doubt receive this news with pleasure especially since this new Metro wonderplay, "Dorian's Divorce," in which they are appearing, is considered their greatest success. "Dorian's Divorce" tells the story of a wife, who dissatisfied with her lot, because her husband has lost most of his money in Wall street, wants a divorce. He agrees to allow her to have it. The wife's godfather, fearing the loss of his money, tells the husband that he has misappropriated funds belonging to the wife and seeks his protection. Some time later the godfather is found dead. The circumstances point to the wife as the guilty person, but the husband, in his devotion to her, takes the blame for the crime and leaves her from the city. How he wanders penniless to the water front of New York; how he ships aboard a yacht and the terrible experiences which he suffers; how finally after he has unearthed the real criminal, his wife sends for him and together they tear up the divorce papers and the husband forms a story, the like of which has seldom, if ever, been seen on the screen. An excellent comedy and other high class attractions will be presented at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow in conjunction with the feature photoplay.

dividual enlistment in the United States volunteer force, into which given regiment of guardsmen could be absorbed as a unit if the individual members of it so wished. On the other hand, the act of 1903, with its amendment, makes it compulsory for each member of the National Guard to go to any point within the borders as directed by the president, through the governor or, in case of martial law, by the court-martial made up of officers from the militia, not the regulars. The law is interpreted as meaning that the governor must obey the presidential order, his only method of avoiding it being to muster out the National Guard before the order actually reaches him, thus being in a position to answer that there are no National Guardsmen in this state.

MASS. MILITIA CAN BE

MOBILIZED IN 24 HOURS

BOSTON, June 19.—The Massachusetts consignment of the National Guard called out for border duty can be mobilized within 24 hours. Adj. Gen. Cole said last night. While the final decision as to the troops picked rests with Governor McCall, who was in Hartford, Conn., last night, Gen. Cole said the infantry brigade would probably consist of the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth regiments.

The choice of the separate regiment of infantry asked for by Washington lies between the Second and the Sixth. It was thought the Second regiment would be selected, as Col. W. C. Hayes, its commander, is the senior officer. The Bay State troops called out number 5121, as follows:

Infantry, 3500; field artillery, 800; cavalry, 200; signal corps, 150; ambulance corps, 67; field hospital, 54; sanitary division, 156. Twelve hundred troops will be left behind, consisting of the naval militia and one regiment of infantry.

Gen. Cole said the chief difficulty he could foresee in mobilizing was to get the 2000 horses which would be required.

DAY STATE MILITIA

ORDERED TO ARMORIES

BOSTON, June 19.—Governor McCall sent the following telegram from Hartford last night to Adj. Gen. Cole:

"Issue all orders necessary for immediate mobilization of all troops called for by the federal government according to the terms of the call. Inform the adj. gen. that the call is being availed of the official order from the war department, but mean-while had all preparations made for an immediate call for mobilization."

After a talk with Governor McCall over the telephone, Gen. Cole said the Second regiment, from the western part of the state, had been picked to go with the infantry brigade composed of three other regiments. The mobilization orders show that the Coast Artillery Corps the Sixth Infantry regiment, First Corps Cavalry and the Naval Brigade will not go to camp. "Any officer or enlisted man not reporting as ordered will be subject to court martial," the instructions say. "This tour of duty is for an indefinite period, and officers and men are cautioned about making the necessary arrangements in accordance therewith."

Commanding officers are directed to recruit to the maximum strength.

SECRETARY DAKERS

CALL FOR THE MILITIA

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Baker's telegram to the governors of the various states, which was identical in form except as to the units called out and the mobilization point, was as follows:

"Having in view the possibility of further aggression upon the territory of the United States and the necessity for the proper protection of that frontier, the president has thought it proper to exercise the authority vested in him by the constitution and the laws and call out the organized militia and the National Guard necessary for that purpose. I am in consequence instructed by the president to call into the service of the United States forthwith through you the following units of the organized militia and the National Guard of the state of which the president directs shall be assembled at the state mobilization point for muster into the service of the United States;

(More follows the list of units called) Organizations to be accepted into the federal service should have the minimum peace strength now prescribed for organized militia, the maximum strength at which organization will be accepted, and to which they should be raised as soon as possible as prescribed in section 2, tables of organization, United States Army.

In case any regiment, battalion or squadron now recognized as such contains an insufficient number of organizations to enable it to conform to muster to regular army organization tables, the organization necessary to complete such units may be moved to mobilization camp and there inspected under tables of the United States Army to determine fitness for recognition as organized militia by the war department. Circular 19, division of militia affairs, 1914, prescribes the organizations desired from each state as part of the local tactical division and only these organizations will be accepted into service.

It is requested that all officers of the adjutant-general's office, quartermaster corps and medical corps, duly recognized as pertaining to state headquarters under tables of organization, be ordered to duty in state administration, be ordered to camp for duty in state administration, be ordered to camp for duty as camp staff officers. Such number of these staff officers as the department commander may determine may be mustered into the service of the United States for the purpose of proper camp administration and will be mustered out when their services are no longer required.

"When recognized brigades or divisions are called into service from a state, the staff officers pertaining to these units under tables of organization, United States Army, will be mustered into service and also the authorized inspectors of small arms practice pertaining thereto. Except for those two purposes of mobilization camp service and in the prescribed staff service with tactical units officers mentioned will not be mustered into service at this time. If tactical divisions are later organized the requisite additional number of staff officers with rank as prescribed for division staff will as far as practicable be called into service from those states which have furnished troops to such division. Acknowledge."

(Signed) "Newton D. Baker," "Secretary of War."

"The companies, B and C, were called out at 8:45 a. m. today, for duties in preparing the camp ground for the full force. The work of recruiting for war strength will be undertaken as soon as the yard has been fully mobilized here. The minimum strength of the New Hampshire National Guard forces called for duty comprises 12 companies of infantry of 65 men each, one machine gun company with 15 men, one signal corps detachment with 40 men, one field artillery company of 121 men and one troop of cavalry with 65 men."

MAINE MILITIA MOBILIZED

READY TO GO TO BORDER

AUGUSTA, Me., June 19.—The 12 companies of the Second Regiment, National Guard, state militia, were mobilized at their armories early today in readiness to start for the state encampment grounds here when ordered to move.

The regiment is ready to proceed to the Mexican border at any time, but it is doubtful if it is mobilized here for a day or two. Meanwhile commanding officers are recruiting their companies to the maximum.

Word was received from Limerick Falls that Company C, the largest in the regiment, had recruited eight men before 1 a. m., making a total complement of 88. Company B at Rumford recruited 12 men before 8 o'clock. Both companies which were called out by a signal at the fire alarm at 3 o'clock were under arms and ready to move four hours later.

The companies which now average 80 men, will be recruited to war strength of 150. The idea of having the recruiting done at the home stations was thought by military authorities here to be the most feasible plan. This is expected to take three or four days. The organization is expected to assemble at the state camp grounds by the latter part of the week. All officers and men will be given a medical examination at the home stations. The officers' school of instruction, which was to have opened here today, was cancelled. Intensive training and instruction of all the units was begun at once.

VERMONT MILITIA

ASSEMBLES AT ARMORIES

MONTEPELIER, Vt., June 19.—The work of assembling the members of the Vermont National Guard was begun early today. A large part of the men were ready at the company armories at 6 a. m. It is expected that they will proceed to Fort Ethan Allen tomorrow.

MASS. MILITIA READY

FOR SERVICE ON BORDER

BOSTON, June 19.—Members of the Massachusetts National Guard assembled at their armories throughout the state today in preparation for service on the Mexican border. Many of the officers and men were notified by telephone during the night of the call for service and early today the militia summons was sounded on fire alarms in cities where there are armories.

Adjutant General Charles H. Cole, who was busy until long after midnight arranging details of the mobilization, was at his office again early today. He said that although it would be possible to move all the troops to the camp at Framingham today, it was planned to defer this action until tomorrow. Today, Gen. Cole said, would be devoted to gathering all the men at the armories, inspecting their equipment and examining them for the possible presence of any infectious or contagious disease. He said that work also would be begun toward recruiting the companies to their full strength.

Many Want to Enlist

Officers have been directed to select options on horses suitable for field service. Gen. Cole said that the actual purchase of animals would be deferred until he had received instructions from Washington.

More than 99 per cent of the militia under orders had assembled at their armories at their appointed hour. Adj. Gen. Cole received many telephone and personal calls today from men who wanted to enlist. Applicants were referred to the commands at the several armories, many of which had already set about increasing their numbers.

Massachusetts troops, in their mobilization at South Framingham, will have the benefit of first hand information from the camps in Canada. Col. Frank A. Graves, commanding the Eighth regiment, having been in the dominion on special detail as observer for several weeks. It was ordered to return today.

Cole Appeals for Volunteers

Adj. Gen. Cole later in the day issued an appeal for enlistments. He said:

"The Massachusetts militia wants good, able bodied young men. Now is the time to volunteer for your state and for your country. If you are in good physical condition and want to serve in the armory, enlist now. Go to the nearest armory."

There is Nothing in the World Like Glacier Park!

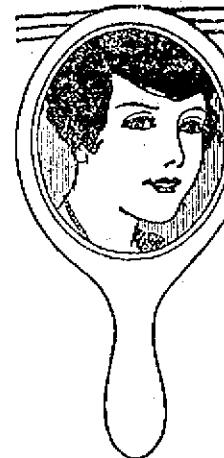

Glacier Park is an ideal recreation spot, the like of which can't be found anywhere else in the world. It's just "chuckful" of the things that will fill your vacation with joy. If you are interested in mountain trout, the 250 glacial lakes, with their connecting streams, furnish plenty of lively sport in that direction.

Probably your wife likes wild flowers. Glacier Park supplies an abundance of flowering dogwood, yellow pines, spruce, fir, hemlock, mountain lilacs, forget-me-nots, larkspur and a dozen other varieties, each lending itself to making every scene an unsurpassed bit of color.

The climate and the air transcend all description; it's air that makes you eat and sleep right, and fires you with a new ambition such as you haven't known for years!

If you will call at my office, I will be glad to go over the proposition with you and outline a trip that can be made in exactly the time that you have to devote to it and within the cost that you decide you can spend. If it will be more convenient for you to send in a postal with your address I will mail you some good reading matter on the Park, and some pictures and maps. Remember, there is no expense or obligation connected with an inquiry; that's what I'm here for.

The Growing Tendency of the Age

A noted English scientist asserts the tendency is toward "neurasthenia, 'nerves,' etc." A remarkable statement!

No less remarkable is the cause which, he adds, "is not unlikely due to removing from our diet those elements of cereal food which Nature has hid in the husk of the grain, and which man in his ignorance discards."

The elements to which he refers are the well-known mineral salts of phosphorus, lime, iron, etc., removed in milling flour to make it white, but which physicians know are indispensable to normal, well-balanced nerves, bodies and brains.

CLUB FOR SALE

Lowell Owners Find the Going in the Eastern League Too Hard

No bids have yet been received on the Lowell baseball team of the Eastern League. Though Andrew Roach and John P. Connor, the present owners, announced Saturday night that the club was for sale, nobody had applied for the purchase price up till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The rainy season, unprecedented in this or any other league, is believed to have led to the proposed sale of the club. The losses have been terribly heavy on account of the rain. It is known, and the failure of the Eastern league magnates to take any action relative to making some changes to reduce the expenses crashed all hopes.

Saturday night Mr. Connor, the new owner, announced that he would sell out his interest in the club. Mr. Connor, who retired from business to improve his health, found the baseball game more tiring than his previous business and decided to quit. Then Mr. Roach announced that he, too, would sell out if he could not find a buyer for the club.

Mr. Connor's entrance as half owner. All bills contracted by the club will have been paid when the sale is made and the new owners will start out on a clean slate. That is, even break at least could be made during the remainder of the season with the expenses cut down a little is almost assured.

men in 45 states were under orders to mobilize for Mexican service. They constitute virtually the entire militia strength of the United States. President Wilson through Secretary Baker issued the orders yesterday when it became apparent that the threatening conditions in northern Mexico were not improving.

To Go to Border

Only drilling and recruiting will be in order among militia organizations for the present. All must be mustered into federal service. Later they will be sent to the border for patrol duty, releasing about 20,000 regulars for service in Mexico if war actually develops.

Warships Rush to Mexico

Additional warships also were getting ready today to hurry south and stand by Mexican ports to protect Americans. Secretary Baker, after the militia order was issued last night ordered seven destroyers and nine other vessels to join the American warships already in Mexican waters.

No Offensive Attack

No offensive attack on Mexico is contemplated. President Wilson only wants stronger forces to defend the border against bandit raids and to be prepared should Carranza troops carry out their threats to strike at American forces engaged in chasing bandits south of the border.

Reply to Carranza

With about 100,000 militiamen under mobilization and about 50,000 troops already at the border, the United States' reply to Carranza's last note demanding withdrawal of American troops is ready to go forward. It announces a refusal to withdraw until Mexico curbs its own bandits, and it is emphatic.

Mobilizing With Zest

Unofficial reports received here today indicated that National Guardsmen are mobilizing with a zest. In each state and the district of Columbia they are preparing to meet in a single concentration camp, where they will drill pending further orders from the war department. Most units will have to recruit up to the minimum standards required by the government.

Gen. Funston in Charge

Infantry, cavalry, artillery, signal and sanitary troops are included in the call. Only coast guard militia is not being mobilized. Texas, New Mexico and Arizona guardsmen are already at the border under call, issued several weeks ago.

Gen. Funston, commanding the border forces will determine when the militia organizations shall be detached from their home states and to what points along the border.

Avail News of Attack

While these troops were getting ready today, war department officials were waiting anxiously for news of whether Maj. Anderson's squadron of cavalry was attacked by Carranza soldiers during a successful bandit chase south of the Rio Grande Saturday.

WASHINGTON NOTIFIED

OF CLASH AT MAZATLAN

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Communications from the Mexican embassy announcing that there had been a clash between a boat crew from the gunboat Annapolis and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday and asking that in the present tense situation no men be landed in Mexico from American warships under any circumstances, were delivered to the state department today by an embassy secretary.

The secretary sought an engagement with Secretary Lansing for the ambassador designate, Eliseo Arredondo, but was informed that Mr. Lansing was very busy and was making no appointments for the day.

Soon afterwards it became known that the reply to Carranza's last note demanding the recall of Gen. Pershing's forces would go forward today. The reply is understood to inform Carranza that the American troops will not be recalled until the de facto government has demonstrated its ability to guard the border from bandits, and to reiterate the position of the United States government.

The encounter between American soldiers and Mexicans near Matamoros has been temporarily solved with the withdrawal of American troops from that region. The matter is now being taken up diplomatically. There was some trouble in Mazatlan caused by the intrusion of an American sailor and that has also been adjusted for the time being.

"Go to your homes and be good Mexicans, remembering also that I will do my utmost to preserve the dignity of the Mexican nation. If we are forced to resort to arms I will lead you in person."

A crowd composed of several thousand people cheered the remarks of the first chief. Early in the evening a big demonstration had been made in front of the National palace and afterwards the demonstrators had paraded through the principal streets of the city.

The Mexican custom house records have been transferred from Nogales, Mex., to some point south of the international line.

A demonstration of armed civilians in Nogales, Mexico, ended early this morning.

Boys 12 years old there have been armed by the military authorities. Eighteen carloads of Mexican families have been sent south.

Several Americans arrested there.

Excitement at El Paso

News that the fourth expedition had been withdrawn from Mexico after a brief campaign and Secretary Baker's statement that the new draft of National Guardsmen are for border duty only as needed and not for increasing Pershing's command had a quieting effect in Juarez.

While large numbers of persons gathered about the plaza in the Mexican town, the excitement, as in El Paso, was confined largely to speculation as to eventualities. With the military on both banks of the river taking increased precaution, no demonstrations were attempted.

So far as is known here, only about troop movements. Natives, treated kindly by the Americans, have voluntarily supplied valuable information.

CARRANZA AGAINST ANTI-AMERICAN DEMONSTRATIONS

MEXICO CITY, June 19.—General Carranza, addressing a mass meeting in front of his residence last night urged the citizens to refrain from hostile acts against Americans and declared that he had hopes of peacefully arranging the difficulties between Mexico and the United States.

"This is not the time for hasty action. I am trying to arrange our difficulties with the United States peacefully and have hopes of succeeding. I want you to aid me."

The encounter between American soldiers and Mexicans near Matamoros has been temporarily solved with the withdrawal of American troops from that region. The matter is now being taken up diplomatically. There was some trouble in Mazatlan caused by the intrusion of an American sailor and that has also been adjusted for the time being.

"Go to your homes and be good Mexicans, remembering also that I will do my utmost to preserve the dignity of the Mexican nation. If we are forced to resort to arms I will lead you in person."

A crowd composed of several thousand people cheered the remarks of the first chief. Early in the evening a big demonstration had been made in front of the National palace and afterwards the demonstrators had paraded through the principal streets of the city.

The Mexican custom house records have been transferred from Nogales, Mex., to some point south of the international line.

A demonstration of armed civilians in Nogales, Mexico, ended early this morning.

Boys 12 years old there have been armed by the military authorities. Eighteen carloads of Mexican families have been sent south.

Several Americans arrested there.

Excitement at El Paso

News that the fourth expedition had been withdrawn from Mexico after a brief campaign and Secretary Baker's statement that the new draft of National Guardsmen are for border duty only as needed and not for increasing Pershing's command had a quieting effect in Juarez.

While large numbers of persons gathered about the plaza in the Mexican town, the excitement, as in El Paso, was confined largely to speculation as to eventualities. With the military on both banks of the river taking increased precaution, no demonstrations were attempted.

So far as is known here, only about ten Americans other than expeditionary soldiers remain in Chihuahua. Apprehension was manifested here for the first time at Parral, all of whom are employees of American mining companies. All of them have been directed by their employers to leave Parral for the border today if possible. The remainder at Chihuahua City are said to be amply protected by powerful Mexican friends.

Americans just out of Mexico expressed belief today that the war fever in the northern states of the republic is likely to cool quite as suddenly as it has arisen. They based their opinions on the harsh reality of economic conditions there. Considerable relief was manifest in El Paso upon the publication of the order of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, directing that no Mexican refugees be allowed to cross the international boundary. Some 4000 Mexicans from the interior states have concentrated in Juarez in the last few days in the hope of crossing into the United States in search of work.

Gen. Bell Content

Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district seemed confident today that with the 3500 troops on station here he was prepared to cope with any emergency. Some consideration, however, was given a rumor that a body of Carranza soldiers, estimated at 5000 was enamped about 20 miles south of Juarez, prepared if necessary, to reinforce the garrison of 4000 and that 8000 Carranza troops left Villa Ahumada, 33 miles south yesterday for El Valle southeast of Dublin, one of Gen. Pershing's field bases. This report, however, could not be confirmed and was not generally believed.

Reports were also current that Gen. Jacinto Trevino, Carranza commander of the army of the north, was arming all male citizens above the age of 15, following his recruiting campaign for which orders were recently issued by the Mexican minister of war.

ston would request the war department to send first the militia of New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, as he believes he can make practical use immediately of these organizations.

Gen. Funston and his staff were chiefly concerned today in a study of how best to maintain the delicate balance between the United States and Mexico until military organizations arrive. Officers at department headquarters do not believe that any of the state troops will get to border stations before ten days and that even then only a small percentage of the total expected would be available for service.

Reports from the border today told of no new raids. Anti-American demonstrations took place yesterday in Mexican towns, and the feeling generally throughout the frontier was that Carranza's troops or civilian organizations in Mexico might precipitate a clash but extreme caution was taken by American officers not to give cause for aggression.

If another raid does occur, or if Gen. Trevino permits any of his troops to attack Gen. Pershing's lines, swift action will be taken by the Americans, but if there is anything the Americans can do to avert trouble it will be done, it was declared.

TAKES TENDER SPOTS FROM TEETH

Local Dentist Has Had Remarkable Success in Treating Tender Teeth Painlessly for Nervous People.

Remarkable success in treating tender points in defective teeth painlessly by a new method will be welcomed by many men and women particularly nervous people, who have dreaded the dentist chair.

DR. KING.
Who has turned the dental chair into an easy chair.

There are thousands of people with one or two tender teeth—teeth that are sore and painful but on account of the pain associated with any dental work they have neglected attending to it day after day. These are the people that will welcome the new treatment of Dr. King. Old time crude methods that inflicted torture and pain are a thing of the past—for by a little delicate touch here and there the nerve is under control and the patient relaxes into a comfortable position—that tense nervous strain of expecting pain has gone and no further thought by the patient is given to the work.

One often reads of the advance in surgery, but rarely of any improvement in dentistry. Here is one improvement that is filling Dr. King's office every day. For those who would like to know what condition their teeth are in Dr. King will give free examination and advice. Remember all work is guaranteed and every patient will be absolutely satisfied. Here are my prices—any one can afford to have dentistry done by me. Gold crowns and teeth without plates undetectable from natural ones for $8. Gold filling $2.00. BASE BALL NOT DEAD

What little baseball we were permitted to play last week demonstrated the fact that the Lowell team has not gone bad permanently but still possesses the goods though up to the past week the boys were somewhat backward about coming forward with said goods. The few exhibitions of last week give hope of a place in the first division after the wet season is over.

Many fans who follow closely the fortunes of the magnates were of the opinion that Saturday night would see the finish of the league as at present constituted despite the fact that at the meeting held in Boston during the week it was voted to continue under the ten team arrangement. Whether the league will finish the season with ten teams, as it started, is problematical, and many would like to see it split into six club leagues, composed of Lowell, Lawrence, Lynn, Worcester, Portland, and either Haverhill, Fitchburg or Manchester, representing this end of New England, and Bridgeport, Hartford, New London, New Haven, Springfield and Waterbury or Newport, R. I., on the other end.

Baseball is by no means dead in the smaller cities of New England, and industrial conditions are such as to assure a liberal patronage. But the weather has been the great drawback.

LOSING ITS GRIP

New London Not Sole Contender for Flag—Lowell Improving

The New London Planters, pace setters in the Eastern league, held their ground with the Springfield "runners up" in the few games that were played in the rainy weather of the past week. After showing signs of faltering the week previous New London came back strong and won just enough games to keep the team the same distance from the Springfield Green Sox. Three full games separate the two teams now.

The Lowell outfit showed more life last week than has marked its work for some time and succeeded in landing three out of four games played. Tuesday, with Jeter Gieser on the ground, Lowell won a victory over Lynn by the score of 2 to 2. Wednesday at Ocean park Lohman pitched the team through a win by the same score. Pieper came back to Spaulding park Thursday and won a lucky game and Harry Lord's boys won their last game of the week at Worcester.

The batting of the local team showed a welcome improvement in the games played. Manager Lord, Barrows, Kithullen and Torphy came to in a most approved manner and Stimpson also hit the ball accurately and hard. The work of pitcher Lohman and Zieser was perfectly satisfactory. Paddy Green failed to show that he was in any better condition than earlier in the week in a fraction of a game against Lynn.

The releasing of Downey and King did not weaken the team to any noticeable extent. A good second baseman who can hit the ball would fit in very nicely. Greenhalge plays the position O. K. for a man out of his position and hits better than the average second baseman but "Smubber" is a catcher. It remains to be seen whether Bunsack, the new college twirler, will make good.

The New London team does not look so far ahead of the other first division aggregations at the opening of this week. Two weeks ago New London's average was .774 and Portland trailed with a standing of .650. Today, however, the Planters have dropped to .714 and Springfield, the second team, has a standing of .671. Several of New London's last victories have been made by a single run and with the other first division teams improving the race promises to be closer and worth watching from now on.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Worcester again tomorrow.

The worst that the new owners should do is break even.

With fair weather the fans should give the team some support this week.

We may see "Hubb" Bressler, Connie Mack's former star, in action with New Haven Wednesday or Thursday.

The Lowell pitchers are all ready to go into the box now. Lohman looks like the first choice while Bunsack is due for a trial.

Manager Billy Hamilton of Worcester has released catcher Carroll and Joe Murray, a former Holy Cross player who failed to make good.

Manager Danny Murphy has signed up catcher Smith, who performed here with Bridgeport. Smith looked like a good catcher in a couple of work-outs here.

Manager Neal Ball has protested Thursday's game in New London, which the Planters won 2 to 1. Ball has his protest on the grounds that Gene McCann, who was reaching, touched a runner coming into third. Umpire McManis would not call the runner out.

Here is a parallel to the now famous "Sister" case.

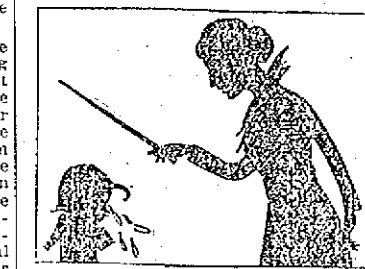

Last season Lowell uncovered a sensational young outfielder, who was known as Clarence Parker. The young man batted .327 and stole 25 bases in 26 games and was looked upon as a marvel, but as he suddenly disappeared he was not drafted, and his name appeared on the reserve list of the Lowell club. It appears that the youngster returned to Dubuque college, but without his whereabouts for the month being discovered.

The discovery was made by a scout for the White Sox who signed Parker to a contract. The college closed a few days ago and Parker joined the White Sox. As soon as this news was flashed to the Lowell owners they decided to appeal to the national commission, as Parker is the property of that club, according to baseball law.

Now comes the rumor that Parker was an assumed name and that the youngster was signed and reserved as Parker. It will be interesting to note the decision made by the supreme court of baseball. Parker claims the contract is illegal because it was signed before he was of age and that it was understood that he was not subject to draft or reservation. Eddie Collins, Andy Coakley and Lew Malone played under assumed names while still in college. Two developed into stars and the other may perhaps the White Sox may have good luck with Parker if they are allowed to keep him, which seems likely.—Boston Journal.

NEBES WINNER

Defeats Blackburn in Record Time—Challenges Champion

Albert Nebes is going to Philadelphia tomorrow to start training for a roller skating race with Clono of Chicago, holder of the world's championship.

Nebes made this announcement following his defeat of Willie Blackburn of Chicago in a 10-mile race at the Bowdoin last Saturday evening in which the Lowell boy finished a winner by six and a quarter laps, just one quarter of a mile. The time was 32 minutes, the best ever made at the Bowdoin. Blackburn's time last Friday night, 35 minutes and two seconds, was the best for a 10 mile race previous to Saturday night.

Over 1300 fans cheered Nebes as he broke the tape, a winner of the $200 purse and the eastern championship. It was the biggest crowd to witness a race at the Bowdoin this season.

As a result of the race Friday night in which Blackburn was a winner, Nebes started the event handicapped three-quarters of a lap. For the first mile or so there was no change in the distance that separated the two men. Then Nebes quickened his speed and in a short time passed Blackburn. In the third mile he lapped him for the first time. The rest of the race was all Nebes, the Lowell boy gaining steadily. It was easily seen that the only thing that would beat him would be an accident and this did not happen. The first five miles of the race were covered in 15 minutes and 45 seconds.

Nebes admits that Blackburn is a remarkable skater. He credits his victory to the fact that he skates around the corners of the small rink while Blackburn has to coast. Blackburn has beaten Clono twice and has been beaten by the champion twice. The last two meetings between this pair were won by Clono, thereby giving him the claim to the championship.

Nebes is confident that if given a chance he will return to Lowell with the title and his many friends join in wishing him success.

HAS GIBBONS GONE BACK?

ST. PAUL PHANTOM HAS LOST HIS LAST THREE BOUTS IN NEW YORK

Mike Gibbons is just about as popular in New York now as would be the Sultan if he visited Petrograd the week after next. The mere mention of Mike's name in Gotham seems to nauseate the local fans.

The last three times Mike has fought in New York he has been beaten. The first time it was by a dub scraper, the second time Packey McFarland turned the trick and next it was Ted (Kid) Lewis who triumphed over him. That Lewis' beating has disgusted Gothamites for all time, as far as Mike is concerned.

Gibbons took on Soldier Barfield last summer, and everyone thought it would be a cinch. It was for Barfield. The dub beat the "peerless" Mike to almost all of his swiftness. He broke through Gibbons' guard at will. And he went further. He showed in what contempt he held Gibbons when he spent half of his time mimicking Gibbons in his ring tricks, while the crowd howled with laughter.

And then came that Gibbons-McFarland fiasco. That night almost killed the game in New York. Neither man fully extended himself. Yet Packey won because of his greater aggressiveness. From where we sat it looked as if Packey were landing three wallopings to one by Gibbons, and Mike's "sure-puncher" was missing frequently and acted like a lost soul.

Ever since Mike has been "panned" by the New York critics. They declared that either he didn't try to fight or that he is through. Mike resented those criticisms. He begged one more chance to display his wares in New York. And he got it against Lewis.

When the men stepped into the ring Gibbons weighed 152½ and Lewis only 143. In other words, a second rate welter "spotted" the supposedly top-notch middleweight nane and a half pounds—a terrific handicap.

The odds were about five to one that Gibbons would win. He had everything in his favor: height, weight, reach, experience, science—everything that goes to make up a fighter.

And Ted (Kid) Lewis beat Mike Gibbons in that fight. He took everything Mike had to offer in the early rounds. He let Mike try out his famous wallop on his jaw—and merely grinned when they landed. He acted as Mike's punching bag for the first three or four rounds. And then he went after Mike. He broke through Mike's so-called "impregnable defense" and landed at will. He forced the fighting—and he forced Mike to knock up Lewis and away we turned aside most of Mike's punches during the latter part of the battling—and he made Mike Gibbons look like a novice.

The non-partisan fans are of the opinion that Mike is through, that he has shot his peacelike bolt—and no longer can he be classed as a contender. They point to the Barfield, McFarland and Lewis fights to support their claim that Mike has faded. The Gibbons enthusiasts, however, claim that Mike still ranks as the best middleweight in the land and that he didn't beat Lewis in a decisive way merely because he didn't extend himself.

If Mike didn't work to his absolute limit, why not? That's what he was paid for. Any fighter who accepts money for ten rounds of fighting and then really doesn't try to fight, gets money under false pretenses. That goes for Mike Gibbons as well as any other fighter in the land.

SWIMMING RACE OFF

The 15-mile swimming race scheduled to take place at Lakeview yesterday morning was called off by the promoters. Absence of entries was given as the cause.

NEWTON, June 19.—As a result of the excellent weather, which brought a record crowd of canoeists on the Charles river at Riverside yesterday, 14 persons, nine males and two women, were pulled from the water as a result of overturned canoes.

Metropolitan park police officers agitated in both the rescues which saved four from drowning during the afternoon. Two youths went over in front of the Boston whitewater association clubhouse. Neither could swim and they were in deep water. With the nearest source of help, Patrolman William E. Lyons, some distance away. When the officer heard their cries he started on his long paddle to the scene and arrived there just in time to save one of the lads from sinking into the water. The other was in bad shape. Both were taken to the station, where they were dried out.

The other rescue was made by Patrolman Sullivan at the Cuts, where two more youngsters who could not swim went over in the deep water and were rescued from the overturned canoe to which they were clinging for their lives.

Both very weak, were taken into the police boat and carried to the station. All told, 11 persons were dried out during the day.

Besides the thousands of canoeists, as many more walked and sat down the banks of the river, while Newton's park had its record crowd of the season. The automobiles were absent, however, because Weston bridge is closed for the summer while a new structure is being built, causing a doleful of all machines bound from Boston to the west.

CHANGE AT BRIDGEPORT

HARRY CORNELL NOW SOLE OWNER OF CLUB—BUYS OUT INTEREST OF GUS KNORR

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 19.—Harry Cornell, who since the start of the season has been associated with Gus Knorr in the operation of the Bridgeport franchise in the Eastern League, yesterday declared that he had secured his partner's interest in the club and hereafter would operate the club alone. "I am out of everything now except baseball," was Cornell's way of putting it. "Mr. Knorr and I are on friendly terms and will continue to maintain our pleasant relations." He wanted to get out of baseball and we arranged terms to our mutual satisfaction. I have purchased Mr. Knorr's interest in the club and at the same time have given up my holdings in the bowling alleys and theatre in South Norwalk, which we formerly conducted together as partners."

Practically Cornell's first move as sole owner of the club was to start negotiations for the strengthening of the Bridgeport team. He got in touch with Manager Leach of the Rochester club of the International league and secured Outfielder Blake under an optional agreement. Leach said that the only reason he allowed the player to go was because of the necessity of cutting down the squad to keep within the league's player limit. Blake hit last year and when farmed out to the Binghamton club of the New York State league hit for .290. He is a youngster.

Another change was the release of Jack Dell, the former Pony. Cornell says he is satisfied that Dell will fill the bill as first baseman and considers that the trial given the player was enough to give him every chance to make good.

RESTA WINS ALL EVENTS

CHICAGO, June 19.—Dario Resta won all three heats of the match automobile race with Ralph de Palma at the Speedway here yesterday, taking the 50-mile event in 31 minutes 57 2-5 seconds, an average of 96 miles an hour; the 24-mile heat in 12:42 3-5, an average of 105 miles an hour; and the 10-mile race in 5:51 1-5, an average of 102½ miles an hour.

De Palma averaged 93 miles an hour in the 50-mile event; 104½ for 24 miles and finished the 10-mile race but a few yards behind his rival. His times for two longer heats were 32:18 and 13:45 4-5. His time for the 10-mile race was not announced.

Resta developed his greatest speed in the 24-mile race, which covered two circuits of the track, four miles, at better than 100 miles an hour. De Palma encountered engine trouble in the 50-mile race, four miles from the finish. He crossed the line with only two cylinders working.

Resta was awarded a silver challenge cup.

YALE AND HARVARD VARSITY CREWS READY FOR ANNUAL CLASH ON THAMES

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 19.—The crews of Harvard and Yale are ready for their annual clash on the Thames river, which is to be held June 23. This year's varsity eight race promises to be a spirited one from start to finish, with Harvard going across the finishing line first. Harvard's showing for the past two weeks has been satisfactory as regards smoothness. Lund, at stroke, has given the impression of having again regained the form he displayed at English Henley two years ago. Coach George St. John Sheffield, the Yale rowing authority, said after seeing the Harvard eight that it was one of the most smoothly rowing combinations which the crimson has put upon the river in years. He added that Conches Herrick and Haines have something of a problem to retain the stroke efficiency and at the same time raise the pace half a dozen points. The course over which the Yale and Harvard crews will row on Friday has been buoyed. A number of marks on shore which had served as guiding points for the course marks were disturbed during the past year, and the regatta committee found it necessary to have the banks resurveyed. This work has been completed. The morning races will be over the lower river, from the drawbridge to the navy yard. The varsity eight's race will be started near Bartlett's Cove, on the west bank. Upper illustration in layout shows the Harvard varsity eight out for a spin. Lower, the Yale varsity squad. One in circle, Captain Morgan of Harvard.

NEW ARMY BILL

Resolution to Make Militia Draft Provision Effective

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A resolution making immediately effective the militia draft provision of the new army reorganization bill under which guardsmen consenting to take the federal oath would be available for service anywhere immediately, has been prepared by war department officials and Chairman Hay of the house military committee. It may be presented to congress today.

The Hay resolution would put into immediate effect section one hundred and eleven of the new bill, which will not become effective under its own terms until July 1. It authorizes the president to draft all members of the National Guard or National Guard Reserves in his discretion, when congress shall have authorized, the use of the armed forces of the country.

As only congress has the power to declare war, the president could use the guardsmen even under the absence of specific authority from congress. It is held, however, that the militia may be sent across the international line if necessary in the operation of defending American territory. Section one hundred and eleven says:

"All persons so drafted shall, from date of their draft, stand discharged from the militia and shall from said date be subject to such laws and regulations as may be applicable to members of the volunteer army."

The constitutional limitations on use of the militia only for purposes of defense were sought to be avoided by the framers of the bill through the discharge of the men from the militia.

The section also provides that officers of the forces so drafted above the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the president while lower officers shall be selected from the personnel of the force.

Steps were taken today to call into service the doctors of the medical reserve corps for duty in connection with the mobilization of the National Guard. Every man mustered into federal service will be physically examined in order to prevent undue extension of the pension rolls.

FEAST OF ST. ANTHONY

Society Addressed By Rev. Dr. Keleher—Public Parade Followed By Luncheon

A church service, parade, luncheon and social hour marked the patronal feast of St. Anthony de Padua society yesterday. The affair, which is an annual one, was one of the best in the history of the organization. Present at the ceremonies were the members of the M. S. S. Caplino society of Lawrence, who were accompanied by the famous Bellini band of the down-river city.

At 10 o'clock the members of the society and their guests assembled at the society's quarters in Chapel street and marched to St. Peter's church, where they attended mass and listened to a very forceful sermon given by the chaplain of the society, Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher.

At the close of the mass the procession reformed and the following route was covered: Gormham, Davis square, Back Central, Merrimack, Moody, Aiken, Merrimack, Dutton, Fletcher, Thorndike, Middlesex, Gormham, Charles to Chapel and into the hall. Upon reaching the hall the quarters of the organization a luncheon was served and interesting remarks were made by the following: Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher, Bernardino Minichiello, president of the Lawrence society; Ferdinando d'Arcezo, president of the local society and others. In the afternoon a social hour was held, during which time a varied musical program was given by the Umberto band of Lawrence, who also escorted the Lowell society in the parade, and refreshments were served. The committee responsible for the success of the celebration consisted of the following: Ferdinando d'Arcezo, chairman; G. Musa, G. deLuca, G. Pilato, D. Castello, A. Traverso, G. DeGrandis, A. Pullano and D. dePaullis.

WASHINGTON EXCITED

CROWDS SURROUND RECRUITING STATION—KHAKI MEN ANXIOUS FOR CALL TO DUTY

Special to The Sun

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Secretary of War Baker today received a telegram from Governor McCall stating that mobilization of troops for border service would begin at once. Crowds have gathered outside the recruiting office here and groups of khaki clad men on the streets show their eagerness to serve. The order for mobilization has caused a sensation here.

FATAL CAR ACCIDENT

ONE BOY KILLED AND ANOTHER DYING IN HOSPITAL—LAKEVIEW AVENUE THE SCENE

Alvin Chodakowski, aged six years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Chodakowski, who reside in Merrimack Park, Dracut, is dead and a companion, Ludwig Witkos, aged five years, living in Lakeview avenue, has a fractured skull and is at St. John's hospital, as a result of being struck by an electric car in Lakeview avenue just beyond Parker avenue, yesterday afternoon.

The two boys were coasting down an incline in an express wagon in Lakeview avenue. An electric car was coming towards them and when it had passed, the boy who was sitting in the bound car and the vehicle sharply across the tracks directly in the path of a Lowell bound electric. The latter car was driven by Motorman W. G. Brown and Conductor Thomas McAndrew was in charge. Those who were on the car state that the motorman did everything in his power to stop the car to a stop after seeing the boys, but the express wagon was within a few feet of the electric car when the motorman first saw it.

Evidently the boys intended swinging into Parker avenue when they cut across the track behind the outboard car and directly in front of the Lowell bound car. The car was going at a speed of six or eight miles an hour, and the left corner of the fender hit the boys' vehicle.

Both lads were unconscious when picked up and were rushed to Lowell in the electric car which the passengers were discharged. At Merrimack square the ambulance met the victims and conveyed them to St. John's hospital, where the Chodakowski boy died within 15 minutes.

CAVALRYMEN GUARD LONG LINE MENACED BY MEXICAN SOLDIERS

OFFICERS LEADING TROOPERS IN MEXICO

The truculent attitude of General Carranza, de facto president of Mexico, asserting that a move by the American troops in any direction but north would invite attack, called attention to the long line of communication and supplies between Columbus, N. M., and Namiquipa, Mex. This line is about 200 miles long. It must be guarded if serious peril to the American forces in Mexico is to be averted. Picture shows officers leading cavalrymen in Mexico in line of march. At their head is Colonel Tate of the Eleventh cavalry.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS

German Attacks on French North of Verdun Resumed—Teutons and Russians in Fierce Battle

German attacks on French positions north of Verdun have been resumed, but the French forces have been prevented from making any further advance, the Paris war office announced today. The assault of last night was on Hill No. 321, to the west of the Thiaumont farm, almost directly north of the fortress.

A further attack in force in the Dead Man hill sector, west of the Meuse, apparently is in preparation, judging from the intensity of the German bombardment and its prolongation.

Correspondents on the eastern front point to the fighting along the Styr and Stokhod, near Kovel, as crucial in its nature. The Germans are assisting the Austrians here in an attempt to check the drive of the Russians for the railway junction of Kovel, a vital point in the Teutonic defense system in that region.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN GALICIA AND VOLHYNIA, SAYS AUSTRIAN REPORT

BERLIN, June 19. (By wireless to Bayville)—Heavy fighting in Galicia and Volhynia is reported in the official Austrian statement of June 17, which says:

"On the Pruth there were no events of special importance.

"Russian attempts to cross the Dniester north of Niezurska failed. Russian attacks against our positions east of Vinnovoye were repeated with undiminished violence.

"In Volhynia fighting began again at Alpa and in the districts of the Wocazy, Stokhod and Styr rivers." Regarding the Italian front, the statement says that Italian troops are on the offensive in many sections but are being held in check by the Austrians.

GERMAN INFANTRY ATTACK ON FRENCH POSITION NORTH OF HILL 321 REPEATED

PARIS, June 19, noon.—A German infantry attack on the French position north of Hill No. 321 was repulsed by the French batteries yesterday, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The Germans are continuing their bombardment at Dead Man hill and in the Chantonnay region.

The text of the statement follows: "South of the river Somme an unexpected attack on the part of the enemy in the vicinity of Lihons has resulted in complete failure.

"On the left bank of the river Meuse the enemy has been engaged in an active bombardment of the southern slopes of Dead Man hill and of the country around Chantonnay, our artillery everywhere responded with curtains of fire and preparations against further activity were made.

"On the right bank of the river a pronounced German attack against our positions north of Hill No. 321 was repulsed by our fire.

"During the night of June 18-19 two of our air squadrons bombarded the barracks and the railroad station at Vouziers. One squadron threw down 36 shells of large calibre, and the other one 28."

The race was rowed upstream in comparatively calm water, with what little wind and tide there was against the oarsmen. Cornell took the lead at the start and was never headed.

DESTROYS VEGETATION

SULPHURIC ACID VAPOR FROM CHEMICAL WORKS COMPLAINED OF IN TEWKSBURY

Vegetation has suffered a severe blow from the weather in pretty nearly every section of the country, but out Tewksbury way, or, to be more precise and explicit, that portion of Tewksbury known as Wameet has had a double portion to bear, inasmuch as atmospheric depositions have been augmented by sulphuric acid gas—the most unheard of thing, but true nevertheless.

The sulphuric acid gas alleged to come from the chemical works close by has been raising ructions with flowers, vegetables, trees and other things for some time and the apple trees in that vicinity look as if they had been swept by fire.

Considerable damage had been wrought before it was realized that the gas was responsible and as soon as the real trouble was discovered the Avery Chemical company proceeded to rectify it. The greatest damage in the immediate vicinity was done the hot houses of George W. Foster. This was a splendid place for the gas to get in its work and what it didn't do to flowers, shrubs, etc., was little. However, it was stated today by Mr. Clinfin of the Avery Chemical company that the condition was but temporary and that no further damage would result from sulphuric acid gas.

RELEASED, AND REARRESTED

BOSTON, June 19.—Federal authorities today discharged from their custody Louis Merriam, who had been held since February in connection with the effort of the police of Montreal to have him extradited to answer a charge of stealing $7500 worth of diamonds from a jewelry store in that city. Assistant United States District Attorney Shea stated after the proceedings that this action was taken because of the expenses involved. Merriam was re-arrested by local officials charged with theft of $1000 of foreign currency from Boston bankers.

GERMAN SHELL TORE BIG HOLE IN BRITISH SHIP AT JUTLAND FIGHT

LOOKING ALONG SIDE OF BRITISH WARSHIP HIT BY SHELL. HOLE STUFFED WITH BEDDING

These pictures, made from the first photographs received in America from England, illustrate damage done to a British warship in the great sea fight off Jutland on May 31. One of the pictures shows the battle scarred side of the vessel; the other shows how the shell hole, seen at the left of the larger picture, was stopped by bedding. The German and British admiralities' accounts of the damage sustained by each side in the battle still differ, each government claiming a victory, or at least partial victory, in the fight.

RECESSIONS AT OUTSET

MEXICAN SITUATION AFFECTS MARKET—INCREASED IN ACTIVITY IN SECOND HOUR

NEW YORK, June 19.—The critical state of the Mexican situation, of which Wall street had a foreboding last Saturday, was the cause of further recessions at the opening of today's market. All classes of securities ranged at lower levels with weakness in Mexico Petroleum, Southern Pacific and U. S. Smelting, where losses extended from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 points, copper, Crucible Steel, Beet Sugar, Marine Pfd., and Industrial Alcohol also inclined to heaviness. Prominent rallies yielded from fractions to a full point. Supporting orders soon effected substantial rallies in some of the more active issues, but the undertone remained feverish.

Liquidation became more general with a decided increase of activity in the second hour. Mexicans continued as the weakest features but standard rails, representative industrials and the less speculative specialties yielded easily. Shipping shares which had shown some early strength fell away with other leading issues. Extreme nervousness prevailed at mid-day. Bonds were irregular.

Motors, equipment and sundry specialties sought lower levels in the second hour, with feeble support for the more substantial issues. Dealings diminished on this movement, after which slight rallies were recorded. Leading issues extended their losses very materially in the active final hour, carrying the entire list to lower prices at the session. The closing was weak.

LOCAL BOYS AWAIT CALL

State. The three Lowell companies included in the Sixth are C. G. and K. The commanders of these companies are as follows: C. Capt. Geo. W. Peterson; G. Capt. Walter R. Jeyes; K. Capt. James N. Greig. Company M is the only local company connected with the Ninth regiment and this company is commanded by First Lieut. Daniel M. Christian and Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge.

Adj. Gen. Cole sent out orders last night for all companies of the National Guard to report at their armories at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Members of his staff said they expected the troops to be at Framingham camp by Tuesday night.

Any officer or enlisted man not reporting as ordered will be subject to court martial, and the order reads that "the four of duty is for an indefinite period, and officers and men are cautioned about making the necessary arrangements in accordance therewith.

Commanding officers are directed to recruit to the maximum strength.

The mobilization orders show that the Coast Artillery corps, the Sixth Infantry regiment, First Corps Cadets and the Ninth brigade will not go to camp, but will come from South Sudbury that the Sixth regiment started a drive yesterday afternoon to be included in the Massachusetts regiments to leave for the Mexican border.

All officers of the regiment have been attending an officers' school at South Sudbury the past few days. Saturday came the news that the militia had been called out, and later came the announcement that the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth probably would be selected.

Then the men of the Sixth got busy basing their claim upon the fact that the Sixth was the first regiment to leave for the Civil war and upon its standing as the leading regiment of the state in shooting, inspection and attendance, wires were kept hot in an endeavor to land a place in the "On-to-Mexico" brigade.

The order for troops calls for one brigade and one regiment from this state. A brigade comprises three regiments. The Second brigade includes the three companies announced as a possible choice, and it is believed by officers of the Sixth regiment that this was instrumental in the selection.

However, it is possible that a new brigade may be formed, comprising the best companies of the state, in which event the Sixth regiment surely would be included. The officers of the Sixth feel they owe it to the regiment's record to be among the first to respond.

The Bay State troops called out are as follows:
Infantry, 3600; field artillery, 800; cavalry, 300; signal corps, 150; ambulance corps, 60; field hospital, 60; sanitary division, 150. Twelve hundred troops will be left behind, consisting of the naval militia and one regiment of infantry.</

CZERNOWITZ IS CAPTURED

Taken by Russians—Austrians in Retreat Toward the Carpathian Mountains

LONDON, June 19.—Czernowitz, capital of the Austrian crownland of Bukovina, in the hands of the Russians and the Austrians who held it are in retreat toward the Carpathian mountains.

Hard fighting took place in the capture of the Czernowitz bridgehead, and in the passage of the river Pruth, but when finally the Russians gained the right bank of the river, the Austrians evacuated the capital, leaving 1000 prisoners and some guns in the hands of the Russians.

To the north, in Galicia and Volhynia, the Russians are meeting with desperate resistance by the Austro-Hungarians and Germans, some of the latter of which are reported by Petrograd to have been brought from the French front in an endeavor to aid in stemming the Russian advance.

While Petrograd asserts that the Russians are repulsing the counterattacks, pressing the Teutonic allies farther back and taking from them large numbers of prisoners and quantities of war materials, both Vienna and Berlin report victories for their arms in Galicia and Volhynia.

Further back and taking from them large numbers of prisoners and quantities of war materials, both Vienna and Berlin report victories for their arms in Galicia and Volhynia.
